Acknowledgement of Indigenous Australians

Wuy-Wrung or Wurundjeri people (Yarra) are the first custodians and traditional owners of a large part of the land of inner and outer Melbourne. The symbol of the Wurundjeri is Bunjil the eagle and Waang the crow.

The University of Divinity (UDiv) and its Colleges acknowledge with respect the traditional custodians of this land and, in particular, the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin nation.

We encourage and support UDiv staff and students to work creatively in implementing appropriate policies and practices in our various Colleges, in consultation with Indigenous leaders.

We recognise our responsibilities and opportunities as Christian educational institutions to respect and understand Australia's Indigenous peoples, to build a more just Australia and to commit ourselves to the work of reconciliation.

Established in 1910 by the Parliament of the State of Victoria, the University of Divinity (UDiv) is the world's oldest ecumenical degree-granting consortium. UDiv was granted approval to operate as Australia's first specialised university from 1 January 2012. The recent Centenary celebrated the unique ecumenical vision of the founders in 1910.

Today UDiv consists of eleven denominational colleges representing the Anglican, Baptist, Churches of Christ, Coptic Orthodox, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, and Uniting Churches, and The Salvation Army.

UDiv is committed to ecumenical co-operation in theological education which enables each member institution to be true to its own heritage and commitments, yet at the same time open to the enrichment of engagement with others. The opportunities created by such co-operation are available in few other places in the world.

The logo is a star, formed by a constellation of open books. The star is a biblical symbol that appears in the heavens to point wise ones on earth towards the Christ. It is also an Australian symbol, as shown by the federal star and the Southern Cross on the Australian flag. The books which make up the star represent wisdom, and are open to critical interpretation. The gathering of these many parts into a whole expresses the collegiate shape of the University. The gold represents excellence. The distinctive accent is red representing passion and sacrifice, which both flow from and facilitate the study of divinity. The constellation of books creates two stars, one on the outside and one on the inside, illustrating the University's commitment to tradition and innovation: through critical study, the University brings ancient truths into dialogue with the issues of the contemporary world.

Catholic Theological College

Catholic Theological College (CTC) was established in 1972 by a group of dioceses and religious orders which agreed to act together as a confederated body in academic matters. This federation currently comprises the Archdioceses of Melbourne and Hobart, the Dioceses of Ballarat, Sandhurst and Sale, the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, the Salesians of Don Bosco, the Conventual Franciscan Friars, the Dominican Friars, and the Missionaries of God's Love. CTC also has seminarians attending from other dioceses and formation houses including: the Archdiocese of Adelaide, the Diocese of Port Pirie, and the Capuchin Friars.

CTC is committed to the highest standards of teaching and research in philosophy and theology, within the Catholic tradition. It collaborates in the Church's mission to spread the Gospel, and provides academic formation for people committed to the pastoral service of the Church. In 1973, CTC became a Recognised Teaching Institution of UDiv, which was constituted as a degree-granting body by the Parliament of Victoria in 1910.

The College is conveniently located in East Melbourne, near the Fitzroy Gardens, and on the edge of the Melbourne CBD. Its buildings bring together the historic bluestone of the original Parade College and the award-winning architecture of Gregory Burgess.

Students come from a wide range of backgrounds and interests. Some are preparing for ministry in the Church, such as seminarians, women from religious orders, candidates for the permanent diaconate and pastoral associates. Others are undertaking study for professional development or personal enrichment.

CTC offers a range of undergraduate and postgraduate courses, as well as opportunity for higher degrees by research. Students can also enrol in single units and/or audit individual units/classes for interest rather than for assessment.

The teaching staff at CTC are internationally qualified and highly experienced.

Knox Public Lecture

The annual Knox Lecture is an important date in the calendar of Catholic Theological College. It commemorates the life and ministry of the founder of the College, the late James Robert Cardinal Knox, fifth Archbishop of Melbourne.

James Robert Knox was Archbishop of Melbourne from 1967 to 1974. As Archbishop he had a grand vision for theological education in Melbourne, which led to the formation of a significant Catholic theological faculty dedicated to the education not only of future priests but also of religious and laity. This educational institute would take its place in the wider Christian and civil context as part of UDiv.

This vision is embodied today in Catholic Theological College and it is through the Knox Lecture that the College acknowledges its great debt to James Knox.

The Knox Lecture has been offered annually from 1978 and has been given by speakers including: Rev. Prof. Francis Moloney sdb AM (2007), Prof. Gregory Craven (2008), Rev. Dr Brendan Byrne sj (2009), Rev. Prof. Gerald O'Collins sj AC (2010), Rev. Dr Austin Cooper omi AM (2011), Rev. Assoc. Prof. Orm Rush (2012), Prof. Harold Attridge (2013), and Bishop Paul Bird CSsR (2014).

Mannix Library

Phone (03) 9412 3350 Email library@ctc.edu.au
Fax (03) 9415 9867 Website www.ctc.edu.au/library

The Mannix Library exists primarily to serve the needs of staff and students of Catholic Theological College. Services are also extended to staff and students of the John Paul II Institute for Marriage and Family. The library is also open to the public.

Mannix Library provides access to over 100,000 monograph volumes and approximately 220 current serials. It also provides access to a number of electronic resources via www.ctc.edu.au/library/online-resources. Further information about the Library is available via the Library website. A User Information Guide to Services and Collections is also available from the Library.

The library was founded in 1923 as part of Corpus Christi College – the provincial seminary for the Catholic dioceses of Victoria and Tasmania. The seminary and the library were located at various times at Werribee, Glen Waverley and Clayton. When Catholic Theological College was established in 1972, library services were extended to staff and students of CTC. In 1999, the Catholic Archdiocese of Melbourne assumed responsibility for the library, which was renamed the Daniel Mannix Library and moved from Clayton to its current site in East Melbourne.

Libraries of Institutions Associated with the University of Divinity

The UDiv community is served by a number of libraries, each committed to meeting the coursework and research requirements of students and faculty in its Colleges. All libraries are accessible to all students enrolled with UDiv. In order to borrow from a particular library, a student should apply to that library directly. If a library loan involves postage, the lending library's distance borrowing policies in relation to postage costs will apply.

A list of all of the libraries can be found at: www.divinity.edu.au.

A combined catalogue of the libraries associated with the University is available at: www.mcdcat.edu.au

The UDiv Discovery layer (www.mcd.worldcat.org) provides access to a searchable database of online journal articles and other resources. These databases provide free on-site and remote access to all staff and students of the University.

Inter-Library Loans

Material not held in the Mannix Library or the library of one of the libraries associated with the UDiv may be acquired via inter-library loan. This service is only available to academic staff and Higher Degree by Research students. Please ask a library staff member for more information about this service.

Other Libraries – Monash University and Australian Catholic University

Reciprocal borrowing arrangements are in place with Monash University (www.lib.monash.edu) and the Melbourne campus of the Australian Catholic University (www.library.acu.edu.au) for academic staff and Higher Degrees by Research students at CTC. A letter of introduction is required from the Mannix Library Manager and a form of identification (e.g., CTC Student ID card) must be presented at both libraries.

St Mary's Seminary Library

The resources of St Mary's Seminary Library (omi) in Mulgrave are also available to CTC students. Sections of the St Mary's collection are being added to the Mannix Library online catalogue to facilitate the location of material. The Librarian at St Mary's (03 9795 3535) will provide details on how to access the collection. Arrangements to borrow any particular book(s) from the OMI collection can also be made through the Mannix Library.

St Dominic's Library

St. Dominic's Priory Library in Camberwell is a specialized library focusing on the history and intellectual and spiritual heritage of the Dominican Order and cognate fields. The resources of the library are available to CTC staff and students. The library catalogue and information about access and opening hours can be found at www.op.org.au/library.

General Information

Bookshops

Catholic Theological College does not have an on-site bookshop. For book purchases we recommend the following, which are in alphabetical order:

- Amazon (www.amazon.com)
- Australian Catholic University (www.thecampusbookstore.com)
- The Book Depository (www.bookdepository.co.uk)
- Booko (booko.com.au)
- The Central Catholic Bookshop (www.catholicbookshop.com.au)
- John Garratt Publishing (www.johngarratt.com.au)
- Mosaic Resources (www.mosaicresources.com.au)
- Pauline Books and Media (www.paulinebooks.com.au)

Car Parking

There is limited parking available for student use at the Thomas Carr Centre.

Priority will be given to those with genuine need and unable to use public transport.

Applications for car-parking access are made to the Master's Delegate (Registrar).

Forms are available from Reception.

Contact: registrar@ctc.edu.au

Chapel and Mass Times

All students and staff are welcome to use the chapel for private prayer, and to attend scheduled devotions and Masses.

During semester times, Mass is normally celebrated at 1.05pm from Monday to Thursday.

Students are particularly encouraged to participate in the College Masses listed below.

The venue for these College Masses will be advised.

- Opening Mass (Mass of the Holy Spirit) Friday 27 February 5.30pm
- College Mass (Mass of Sts Peter and Paul) Thursday 4 June 6.00pm
- End of Year Mass Friday 6 November 5.30pm

Computer Access

Wireless internet is provided for student use throughout the College.

Connection details are available from library staff.

Computers in the library for student use have access to internet, email, MS Office, and printing.

Disability Support

Students with disabilities are asked to make their particular needs known to the Academic Dean, Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research), or the Academic Records Office at the time of enrolment, so that every effort can be made to accommodate their needs.

Overseas Students

CTC welcomes overseas students and provides students with a safe, enjoyable and rewarding place to study. CTC complies with Australia's law to promote quality education and consumer protection of overseas students. More details regarding studying in Australia can be found on the website: www.studyinaustralia.gov.au.

Entrance Requirements

See appropriate degree pages for specific entrance requirements.

English Language Requirements for Student Visa Holders

All international students must meet the requisite English language proficiency level for admission to their course.

Undergraduate and Postgraduate Coursework Study

IELTS test result with an overall score of 6.5 and no individual band score under 6.0 or an equivalent test.

Higher Degrees by Research

IELTS test result with an overall score of 7.0 and no individual band score under 6.5 or an equivalent test.

For more information regarding the University's English language requirements see: www.divinity.edu.au.

Enrolment and Reenrolment Procedures

Students on a visa other than a Student Visa enrol on the same schedule as a domestic student.

For enrolment and reenrolment procedures please see the following pages:

	Enrolment	Reenrolment
Higher Degrees by Research:	see page 376

Student Visa Information

Information on applying for and obtaining a student visa is available on the UDiv Website: www.divinity.edu.au. Student Visa Holders must maintain full-time enrolment in their course and must also satisfy course progress requirements. The UDiv Course Progress Policy is found at www.divinity.edu.au. If a student fails to satisfy course progress requirements, UDiv must report this to the Department of Education (www.education.gov.au). This reporting is mandatory and often impacts on the student's visa. Students must also inform CTC and the Department of Immigration and Border Protection of any changes to their address and contact details. Students are strongly advised to view the Department of Immigration and Border Protection's website (www.immi.gov.au) to ensure current visa regulations are met.

Fees must be paid two weeks before the start of each semester. Please note that under the Education Services for Overseas Students (ESOS) Act 2000, students who do not pay fees prior to the commencement of classes must be reported to regulatory bodies within five business days. This may lead to visa cancellations.

In cases of withdrawal, the UDiv policy on full or partial refund of fees in relation to census date(s) is available at www.divinity.edu.au.

Overseas Student Support Services

The Australian Government wants overseas students in Australia to have a safe place to study. Australia's laws promote quality education and consumer protection for international students. These laws are known as the ESOS (Education Services for Overseas Students) framework. More information can be found on the UDiv website.

Classes at CTC are generally small, facilitating an open and informal learning environment.

College and Library Orientation Program

At the beginning of each academic semester CTC provides an orientation program for all new students, which is compulsory for overseas students. This program consists of information and presentations including:

- CTC facilities and resources
- Student Support Services
- Mannix Library
- Computer services
- Student Common Room
- Student Representative Council
- Contacts for emergency assistance within the College

Academic Skills

- The unit AP1001C Academic Writing, Critical Thinking and Logic is an introduction to tertiary study.
- Students for whom English is a Second Language are entitled to extra time in written examinations. Please advise your lecturer or the Academic Records Office if you require this time.

Student Support

The majority of overseas students studying at CTC come from affiliated seminaries and religious orders. They enjoy the significant support structures in place in those seminaries, particularly with regard to English language coaching, provision of study skills, pastoral and personal support in adapting to a new study and living environment.

English Language Tutorials

CTC offers a structured program of tutorials in academic skills conducted by suitably qualified ESL tutors. There are regular tutorial times each week during the teaching semester. More details are available from the Academic Dean.

Course Planning

Overseas students at the College have access to individual academic staff to assist them with study skills. The Academic Dean and the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) provide advice in relation to course planning.

After Hours: For urgent assistance, please call the University's after hours hotline on 1800 775 691

Orientation

This informal gathering provides an opportunity for new students to meet staff and become acquainted with the teaching and student facilities at CTC.

It includes a welcome from the Master of the College and the President of the SRC, and an introductory visit to the Mannix Library.

Semester One Friday 20 February 2015 5.00pm
Semester Two Friday 24 July 2015 2.00pm

Pastoral Care

CTC is committed to the wellbeing of each student. CTC seeks to nurture and support all students by providing a safe, inclusive and caring learning environment.

Student Achievement

CTC and UDiv recognise student achievements each year with the following prizes.

Master's Prize

The Master may award the 'Master's Prize' to a student at Catholic Theological College on one occasion each year. The prize is awarded to that student whom the Master, after due consultation, considers to have made a significant and valued contribution to the life of the College. In selecting the recipient of the 'Master's Prize' account is taken not only of academic results, but also of overall participation in the life of the College. The 'Master's Prize' consists of a framed testamur and a bursary in the form of assistance, cash or kind, to the value of $500.

University of Divinity Vice Chancellor's Scholars

From 2009, one graduand per College has been named each year as a Vice-Chancellor's Scholar (originally Dean's List). The award is made by the Vice-Chancellor on the nomination of the Colleges. A Vice-Chancellor's Scholar demonstrates excellence in fulfilling one or more of the University's Graduate Attributes. This may include academic excellence, contribution to the College Community, and service to wider society. The award is recorded on the graduand's academic transcript.

2009 Gregory Paul Bellamy
2010 Cameron Alexander Forbes
2011 Bartholomew Jerome Santamaria
2012 Katherine Stone mgl
2013 Aaron Matthew Lane
2014 Pablo Enrique Palet Areneda

Essay Prizes

CTC offers an annual prize of $500 for an outstanding essay in each of the disciplines listed below. These prizes are presented at the annual College dinner (Thursday 4 June), for an essay completed in the previous year. To be eligible, essays must be at least 1,500 words in length, and should have been submitted in a CTC unit above level one. Students may nominate essays for consideration by providing a clean paper copy of the essay to the Academic Records Office before the end of December. Prizes are only awarded if an essay of sufficient merit is submitted.

Student Card

Student cards are issued each year. The same card is used both for the Mannix Library and for student ID.

Student cards are available from the Academic Records Office where a digital photo is taken.

Student cards are issued during the enrolment/re-enrolment process.

A student must produce the student card when picking up assignments for collection from the Academic Records Office.

Concessions and discounts outside CTC may be available to enrolled full-time students with a current student card, including discount movies and software.

CTC Student cards are issued to degree students only. Students enrolled as Audit or for Single Units are not eligible for a student card.

Postgraduate and Higher Degree by Research students may obtain an additional student card from UDiv.

Student Concession Card: Victorian Public Transport

Undergraduate Students

A Victoria Public Transport Student Concession Card is available to fulltime UDiv students (some restrictions apply). To apply, obtain a Victorian Public Transport Student Concession Application form from a Melbourne Train Station or from the website: www.ptv.vic.gov.au and bring the completed form including two passport-sized photos to the Academic Records Office.

Students undertaking a part-time course and on a low income, may be eligible for a Health Care Card from Centrelink. This card provides concessions on public transport. For more information, visit www.centrelink.gov.au.

Postgraduate Students

Students undertaking a postgraduate or part-time course and on a low income, may be eligible for a Health Care Card from Centrelink. This card provides concessions on public transport. For more information, visit www.centrelink.gov.au.

Student Visa Holders

Transport Concessions are available to Undergraduate Students on a student visa (conditions apply). Contact UDiv by 31 January 2015.

Student Emails

Generally students use their own personal email address.

Please advise the Academic Records Office of any email changes as soon as possible.

Students are reminded to check their emails regularly to ensure they receive relevant information from lecturers, the Academic Records Office, and UDiv.

CTC student email addresses are available upon request to the Registrar, which will follow the same convention as lecturers: `firstname.surname@ctc.edu.au` e.g. `john.brown@ctc.edu.au`.

Student Lockers

Lockers for storage of personal items are available in the library.

Please see library staff if you would like to be allocated a permanent locker for the semester.

Students are required to provide their own padlock.

Student Representative Council (SRC)

The Student Representative Council (SRC) is a friendly and conscientious group of students who are elected to represent and serve the students of CTC in various ways, including:

- Providing social interaction among the student body, and between students and staff at CTC.
- Managing the Student Common Room, ensuring that refreshments are available to enhance student relaxation and conversation during lunch, dinner and lecture breaks.
- Extending the interests of the students by providing opportunities for personal, academic and spiritual enrichment.
- Arranging and promoting the College Masses, including the annual Masses of the Holy Spirit, and Sts Peter and Paul. For more information see page 30.
- Being available to answer student queries.
- Representing students on the Academic Board, the OHS Committee, and by providing a library representative.
- Managing student finances that are entrusted to the SRC.

SRC Membership

All enrolled CTC students are eligible for election to the SRC.

Elections for the office bearers of the SRC are conducted at the Annual General Meeting (AGM), held at the commencement of first semester each year.

Finances

Part of the voluntary student contribution subsidises the facilities of the Student Common Room, the cost of the Annual Dinner and other functions organised by the SRC.

Merchandise

The SRC provides CTC polo shirts, vests, jackets and hoodies to students and staff at cost.

The order form is available from the Student Common Room or via the SRC page on the CTC website.

Constitution

The SRC Constitution is available from the SRC upon request, or from the SRC page on the website.

Policies and Procedures

UDiv has a range of policies and procedures which apply to all members of the University (staff and students). Policies and procedures are available on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au. Selected items are as follows:

Statement of Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct of Members of the University

1. All members of the University must adhere to the highest standards of academic learning, integrity, fairness and honesty. All forms of cheating, plagiarism, or other academic fraud are strictly forbidden.
2. All members of the University are entitled to be treated fairly in all academic and administrative matters. All members of the University are entitled to appeal a decision made by the University or its Colleges or to seek resolution of a grievance in accordance with University policies without disadvantage. No decision of the University in regard to academic or administrative matters may discriminate against a member of the University of an applicant for admission to the University on the grounds of age, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, religion, colour, race, ethnicity or country of origin.
3. All members of the University have the right to be safe and to feel safe in University and College environments. Bullying or harassment in any form – spiritual, sexual, or discriminatory – is wrong and not permitted.
4. Academic staff and examiners are to grade all assessment in a timely manner and without regard to any personal knowledge of, or relationship with, any student or group of students.
5. Students are expected to participate actively in all classes and to have consideration for staff and other students and their learning.
6. Students are expected to comply with reasonable and lawful directions from University and College staff.
7. Students must not behave in a way that disrupts or interferes with any teaching or academic activity of the University.
8. All officers of the University undertake to treat personal information given to the University or Colleges in confidence and to use it only for the purpose for which it was given. Personal information may only be accessed by people or agencies entitled to do so.
9. Each student who has been admitted to a University award is assured that educational and financial resources are in place to ensure the award may be completed. In the highly unlikely event that the University cannot deliver a course for which a student has paid fees, these will be refunded, or a place at another higher education provided arranged by the University.

General Policies

Discrimination and Harassment

CTC upholds the right of all persons to freedom from any form of discrimination or harassment. All members of the College are expected to respect this right. CTC is committed to providing a safe environment where students and staff are able to work and study effectively.

Anyone who believes that they have experienced discrimination or harassment in their association with CTC should initially contact a Peer Contact Officer to discuss the situation. Procedures for dealing with situations of discrimination and harassment are set out on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Peer Contact Officers

Peer Contact Officers are appointed to assist students and staff in matters concerning harassment, discrimination or grievances.

Peer Contact Officers for 2015

Rev. Dr Phillip Gleeson sdb	CTC Lecturer	phillip.gleeson@ctc.edu.au
Mrs Lisa Gerber	Mannix Library	lisa.gerber@ctc.edu.au
Madeleine Gilbey	CTC Student	peercontactofficer@ctc.edu.au
Arun Charles sdb	CTC Student	peercontactofficer@ctc.edu.au

Academic Policies

Appeals

There are strict time-limits and forms to be completed to lodge an appeal. Please check the policy and see the list below for the appropriate person to whom an appeal is to be directed. The procedures for appealing are set out on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Appeal Type		University Officer
Coursework student appeals against mark awarded to assessment	CTC	Dr Rosemary Canavan, Academic Dean or Rev. Dr Kevin Lenehan, Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research)
Applicant refused admission to a course	UDiv	Director of Academic Services (Coursework) or Director of Research
Higher Degree by Research student disputes outcome of panel	UDiv	Director of Research
Student appeals against examination of a thesis or a 12,000-word Research essay	UDiv	Director of Research
Student or staff member disputes decision of the Human Research Ethics Committee to refuse ethical clearance or to impose limitation on the research	UDiv	Director of Research
Student appeals refusal of University to confer an award	UDiv	Director of Administration
All other appeals	UDiv	Director of Administration

Coursework Course Progress Policy

Coursework students are expected to make satisfactory progress in units enrolled each academic year. The regular interview with the Academic Dean for undergraduate students and the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) for postgraduate students assists to monitor student progress. The term satisfactory progress includes successful completion of at least 50% of units attempted in an academic year. The Coursework Progress Policy is set out on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Grievances

All students and staff have the right to seek redress if they believe that they have been treated unfairly. The College expects and encourages students and staff to make reasonable attempts to resolve any grievance by private discussion before entering into a formal grievance procedure. Procedures for dealing with resolution of grievances, both in academic and non-academic matters, are set out on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Privacy

CTC and UDiv comply with all Privacy Legislation. The primary purpose for which information is collected is for student/academic records, and health and safety reasons.

All research involving other people (e.g., questionnaires) is required to be approved by the UDiv Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC).

The Privacy Policy is set out on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Safety Policies

Emergency Management Procedures

CTC follows the Catholic Archdiocese of Melbourne (CAM) emergency management policy and procedures. Throughout the College you will see emergency posters as follows:

- list of emergency management (EM) personnel, including fire wardens and first aid officers;
- the emergency plan for where you currently are in the building; and
- standard fire orders

See Campus Maps on page 392 for assembly areas.

In a case of an emergency, follow the directions given by EM personnel, who will be wearing fluorescent vests and caps.

First Aid Procedures

Please contact Reception for immediate assistance on (03) 9412 3333 or extension 333.

Occupational Health and Safety (OHS)

CTC is committed to the provision of a tertiary institution that is safe and consistent with WorkSafe Victoria regulations. CTC and UDiv recognises their obligation to take all reasonable precautions to provide and maintain, so far as is practicable, an environment that is safe and without risks to health for employees, students and visitors (UDiv OHS Policy 3.1). See the full policy on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Student Responsibility

(UDiv OHS Policy 4.5)

All students are responsible for adopting safe work and study practices and are to comply with this policy and with site specific policies and procedures. In addition, students:

- a) Must not wilfully place at risk the health or safety of any person at the University or its Colleges
- b) Must not wilfully or recklessly interfere with or misuse anything provided in the interests of health and safety or welfare and must cooperate with the University and its Colleges in relation to actions taken to comply with occupational health and safety legislation
- c) Comply with health and safety instructions
- d) Attend inductions and training as initiated at their College
- e) Take action to avoid, eliminate or minimise hazards
- f) Make proper use of personal protective equipment
- g) Not wilfully place at risk the health and safety of themselves and others
- h) Seek information and advice where necessary
- i) Be familiar with reporting, emergency and evacuation procedures.

OHS Representatives

Please report any safety issues to either Reception or an OHS Representative.

FEE-HELP

Students in any UDiv course can have their tuition fees met by a loan from the Commonwealth Government (conditions apply). The scheme is called the Higher Education Loan Program: Fee-Help for short. The following are correct at the time of printing and are subject to change. Legislation is currently before parliament.

Am I eligible for Fee-Help

You are eligible for Fee-Help if you:

- Are an Australian citizen or permanent humanitarian visa holder (resident in Australia)
- Have an Australian Tax File Number
- Have not exceeded the Fee-Help limit $97,728 (2015 figure)

Note that holders of permanent resident visas are not entitled to Fee-Help

How much can I borrow?

You can borrow up to a maximum of $97,728 (2015 figure) over your lifetime

Is there a loan fee?

- Undergraduate students: the Government adds a one-off 25% loan fee to your tax liability: a 15-point unit costing $1,320 will thus incur a tax liability of $1,650.
Note: The loan fee does not count towards your Fee-Help limit.
- Postgraduate students: no further charge applies.

How do I apply?

You must fill in the Government form and hand it in to the Academic Records Office, which will then forward it to UDiv. Fee-Help Forms and the Fee-Help Information 2015 Booklet are available from the Academic Records Office.

How do I repay my FEE-HELP loan?

- Students repay their loan through the tax system once their income is above the minimum threshold (2015: $53,345)
- You can also make voluntary payments off your Fee-Help debt. See the FEE-HELP Information 2015 booklet for more information.

Fee-Help and Privacy

- UDiv and CTC take your right to privacy seriously, and only use information you provide for the purpose for which you give it. The top page of the FEE-HELP form includes your Tax File Number (TFN), which is seen by only two people in the UDiv office; the CTC office keeps a copy of the second page, which does not include your TFN.
- If you participate in Fee-Help, your details will be listed in Department of Education's Higher Education Information Management System (HEIMS), and you will receive a Commonwealth Higher Education Student Support Number (CHESSN), which remains unique to you for life.

Further information:

- Read the FEE-HELP Information 2015 booklet
- Visit the Study Assist website at studyassist.gov.au
- Call the FEE-HELP enquiry line on 1800 020 108

The government sets a census date for each unit. All enrolments in relation to FEE-HELP loans must be finalised at CTC by this date. For 2015 census dates see page 45.

Academic Skills Support

CTC offers its students ongoing assistance with academic writing skills:

- The unit AP1001C Academic Writing, Critical Thinking and Logic offers opportunities for a student to develop basic skills in academic writing, reading, comprehension and essay writing. Students are encouraged to enrol in the full unit; or
 - The first three one hour sessions of the Academic Writing component of AP1001C Academic Writing, Critical Thinking and Logic can be accessed at no cost to students; or
 - Students can audit the full semester of the one hour Academic Writing component of AP1001C Academic Writing, Critical Thinking and Logic for a special audit fee of $100.
- An academic tutor is available to assist in developing student academic skills with regard to writing assignments and correctly acknowledging sources. Students wishing to improve their writing skills, or developing their argument to clear conclusions can also benefit from working with the academic tutor.
- A dedicated ESL (English as a Second Language) tutor is available to students who need assistance with specialist study skills within their various units.
- A research tutor is available for Higher Degree Research Students.
- For online examples of how to acknowledge sources and paraphrase correctly see Deakin University website: www.deakin.edu.au/students/study-support/referencing/summarising-paraphrasing-quoting
- Additional resources such as a model essay, Referencing for Biblical students and further paraphrasing, footnoting and referencing examples are available on ARK

More details can be obtained from the Academic Dean, who refers students to the College tutors.

Attendance Requirements

Students are expected to attend all lectures and tutorials, as set out in unit outlines. Students should advise the lecturer if they are unable to attend. Attendance at the first lecture is particularly important. At the first lecture students are given comprehensive information about unit content, assessment, and procedures for submitting assignments through UDiv's Learning Management System (ARK). An absence of more than 25% of lectures or tutorials in a unit is normally regarded as too great to sustain active engagement in that unit and may impact adversely on the student's learning.

Students unable to attend lectures for any reason should consult the Unit Outline (available on ARK) for information regarding the content of the missed lecture. In addition, students should access any additional resources provided in the unit reader or on ARK as well as any other recommendation that may be given by the lecturer.

Audit (no assessment) Enrolment

Students who enrol to "Audit" a unit attend classes and prepare set readings but undertake the unit without assessment or academic credit. Contact the Academic Dean for more information. For enrolment procedures see page 82.

Cancellation of Units

CTC reserves the right to alter or cancel scheduled units. Insufficient enrolments could result in a unit being cancelled or postponed. Any change of enrolment necessitated by a cancellation will not incur a financial penalty.

Census Dates

The census date is the final day on which students can withdraw from a unit and receive a refund of tuition fees, and have the unit removed from their academic transcripts. Students who withdraw from a unit after the census date for that unit will not receive a refund of fees and will have the unit recorded on their academic transcript. The census dates for standard 12-week semester length units are listed in the key dates for the academic year. Every unit is assigned a census date. For a full list, including dates for intensive units, see page 45.

Change to Enrolment

Either make a time to meet with the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) or send an email to the Academic Records Office with what changes you would like. These changes must be authorised by the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research). Enrolment in a coursework unit after the first week of lectures is at the discretion of the Academic Dean, and in consultation with the lecturer.

Class Size

Classes at CTC are generally small, facilitating an open and informal learning environment.

Class Structure

A three-hour class consists of the equivalent of three 50-minute teaching periods, generally divided into periods of lectures and tutorials/seminars.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE)

UDiv recognises the Association for Supervised Pastoral Education in Australia (ASPEA) as the guiding body for Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE). UDiv grants credit for CPE within the Pastoral Theology and Ministry Studies Disciplines.

Fee-Help is available. Contact the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and research) prior to commencing CPE placement. Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is a programme of education and formation for the work of pastoral care. The programme's methodology utilises the action/reflection model of learning. The action component entails the actual provision of pastoral care within a pastoral setting.

 DP9273Z Clinical Pastoral Education Level 2, see page 341

Credit for Prior Studies

Credit may be granted for successful completion of equivalent units at another tertiary institution. Original transcripts of previous tertiary studies need to be presented at enrolment.

A Credit application is completed by either the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research), as appropriate, and is sent to the UDiv Learning and Teaching Committee. Students will be advised of any credit granted by UDiv in due course.

Waiving of prerequisites also needs to be included on the credit application form.

Cross-Institutional Enrolment

Students of universities outside UDiv can undertake units at CTC and have them credited to the award in their home university. Cross-institutional students are required to enrol directly with CTC after obtaining permission from their home university to complete their cross-institutional enrolment. Students will need to meet with the Academic Dean for undergraduate degrees and with the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Coursework) for postgraduate degrees.

Deferral of Study

To defer study students need to complete a Change of Enrolment form (available from the Academic Records Office), and submit it to the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) as appropriate.

Distance Education

CTC does not offer distance education units or online study. However, CTC students can enrol in online units conducted by other Colleges of UDiv.

EndNote

EndNote is a program for recording and managing quotations and references used in essays and research. It produces footnotes and bibliographies in a wide range of styles, including the 'Chicago style' required by CTC. Licences for EndNote have been purchased for all UDiv staff and postgraduate and Higher Degrees by Research students. An installation CD is available from the Mannix Library loans desk.

Exchange Studies

CTC students may arrange to undertake studies at other Colleges of UDiv (see page 15). Similarly, students who are enrolled at another College of UDiv may arrange to undertake exchange studies at CTC. Online units are available through the UDiv Learning Management System (www.divinity.edu.au) and other approved theological providers. For more information contact the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) as appropriate.

Graduation

UDiv holds graduation ceremonies each year, at which students graduate in person or in absentia (in their absence).

- Students who believe they are eligible to graduate need to contact the Academic Records Office.
- UDiv will email potentially eligible students towards the end of November 2014 and give instructions on how to register online during February 2015. Students expecting to graduate who do not receive an email by the end of November should contact the UDiv Graduation Officer on (03) 9853 3177.
- All graduating students are advised to check the UDiv website (www.divinity.edu.au) for updates leading up to the ceremony whether they are attending the ceremony or graduating in absentia.
- There is no cost for attending the ceremony, apart from hire/or purchase of academic dress, and all graduands are warmly encouraged to attend.
- The 2015 UDiv graduation ceremony will be held at 7.30pm on Friday 20 March at St Michael's Church, 120 Collins Street, Melbourne.

Leave of Absence

CTC understands that occasions arise when students require a leave of absence from study. Students should contact the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research).

Prerequisites

Each unit description includes a list of any required prerequisites or their equivalent. A unit cannot be undertaken for a degree unless the prerequisites have been fulfilled or unless approval has been received from the lecturer and the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) for the prerequisite to be waived. Waiving of prerequisites needs to be included on the credit application form. (needed here??)

Where a prerequisite requires a "level" of study, a student must have completed two semester units at the nominated level. For example, "one level of Biblical Studies" means two semester units of Biblical Studies at level one.

Recording Lectures

Students who wish to record lectures must obtain permission from the lecturer. The recording is only for the student's personal use.

Seminars

Staff/Postgraduate

All staff and postgraduate students are invited to attend CTC staff/postgraduate seminars. For dates please see the postgraduate research calendar on page 5.

Philosophy (Field A)

All staff and postgraduate students are invited to attend UDiv seminars that concentrate on philosophy and scholarship in the history of ideas. Staff and postgraduate students will be informed by email of forthcoming topics and presenters. For dates please see the research calendar on page 5.

Single Unit Enrolment

Students may enrol for single units – with assessment – without enrolling in a degree. Contact the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research), as appropriate, for more information. For enrolment procedures see page 82.

Unit Evaluations

Each semester students are invited to give feedback on their learning experience using a one page unit evaluation form for each enrolled unit. The College is committed to ongoing review and improvement in learning and teaching. Student feedback makes an important contribution to this process. These anonymous evaluations ask students to reflect on their own learning and participation in the unit, and to give feedback on matters such as the unit's teaching methods, assessment tasks and library resources, especially in relation to the learning outcomes of the unit and the course to which it belongs.

The evaluation forms are analysed by an external consultant, who prepares collated results of each unit for the Master and the lecturer. Lecturers draw on this feedback in developing the units they are responsible for, and discuss unit evaluation reports each semester at Department meetings. A summary report is also presented each semester to the Academic Board and Senate, and has led to initiatives such as professional development for staff, revision to policies, and changes to the support provided to students.

Unit evaluations are limited to the academic areas noted above. Student feedback or concerns on other matters should be addressed directly to the lecturer in the first instance, and then to the Academic Dean or the Master.

Unit Numbering

The first letter refers to the Field of Study, i.e. A, B, C, D or X.

Non-UDiv units have the prefix N.

The second letter indicates the discipline within that field, i.e. A, H, L, N, P, S or T.

The first number indicates the level at which the unit is being assessed.

Undergraduate units are indicated by the number 1 (level one), 2 (level two), or 3 (level three).

Postgraduate units are indicated by the number 8 (foundational) or 9 (elective).

The remaining three numbers identify the particular unit.

The last letter signifies the College, e.g. C = CTC and Y = Yarra Theological Union

For example:

AP1001C Academic Writing, Critical Thinking and Logic

A	P	1	001	C

CT3210C God: Origin and End

C	T	3	210	C
Field C	Systematic Theology unit	level three	unique unit code	College code

A student would normally commence at level one and proceed through the levels as required.

All units are 15 points unless otherwise indicated.

Withdrawal from Units

If students wish to withdraw from a unit they are required to communicate with the lecturer in the first instance and, further, to advise the Academic Dean or the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) as appropriate.

Those who do not formally withdraw may incur a fail on their academic record.

- Withdrawal from a unit before the applicable census date will not be recorded on a transcript. The unit fee will be refunded.
- Withdrawal after the applicable census date will be recorded as such, provided the formal process of withdrawal has been completed. The unit fee will not be refunded. For Audit students, refund of fees is negotiated with the Academic Dean. $200 of the audit fee is not refundable after the census date.

Workload

UDiv recommends a maximum of four units per semester for Undergraduate students, and three units per semester for Postgraduate students.

Any exceptions to this requirement must be approved by the Academic Dean or Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research).

For holders of an overseas student visa

- Undergraduate Students: full-time study is regarded as four units per semester
- Postgraduate Students: full-time study is regarded as three units per semester

Assessment Structure

UDiv has established the following guidelines regarding assessment:

- Each hour of written examination time is the equivalent of 1,000 words.
- A 15-minute oral examination is the equivalent of 1,000 words. All oral examinations are either conducted in the presence of a second examiner or are recorded.
- All units are 15 points unless otherwise indicated.
- All descriptions of units in this handbook contain a statement of assessment requirements. Other details including learning outcomes, essay topics, submission dates, word limits and requirements will be advised by the lecturer.
- See page 58 for a description of grading structures for coursework units.
- All written assignments for all units are submitted via ARK Learning Management System, with the possible exception of short papers (500–750 words) which lecturers may request to be submitted directly to them in class. For more information, see page 55.
- Essays should be within 10% of the stipulated length (not counting footnotes, bibliography and lengthy quotations). Staff are not required to correct the parts of an essay that extend beyond the stipulated length.
- Lecturers are expected to return assessment items promptly. UDiv’s Academic Conduct Policy (2.1) states:

work submitted during the course of teaching must be assessed promptly, and be returned to students with appropriate comment within two weeks (for shorter pieces) or three weeks (for major essays) of submission, unless otherwise arranged in advance with the Academic Dean.

Undergraduate Students

- | | |
|---------------------|---|
| First level | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• receipt of early feedback via a piece of work not substantially counting towards assessment• assessment of more than one piece of work including a component under formal examination conditions |
| Second level | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• written work of 4,000 words |
| Third level | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• written work of 4,000–5,000 words• written work of 5,000–6,000 words |

Postgraduate Coursework Students

- | | |
|---------------------|---|
| Foundational | Foundational units provide a broad introduction to a discipline or field of study. Written work of 6,000 words. |
| Elective | Elective units build upon knowledge and skills acquired in Foundational units. Written work of 6,000 words. |
| Capstone | Capstone units are a unit of study (at least 15 points) in which the student demonstrates integration of the elements of their learning across the award, achievement of the outcomes of the award, and a sophisticated level of understanding and skills. Written work for 15 point unit: 6,000 words. |
- Students will be expected to demonstrate the capacity to research a specific topic in a critically rigorous, sustained and self-directed manner.
 - Students are expected to demonstrate a qualitative difference to undergraduate work.

ARK Learning Management System

ARK is the UDiv's online Learning Management System. Each unit a student is enrolled in has a corresponding page on ARK. On the unit page students are able to access unit resources, participate in forums, ask questions to the lecturer, submit assessment tasks and view results of work that has been marked online.

ARK is available to students when the enrolment process is completed.

Accessing ARK

ARK Web Address: ark.divinity.edu.au

Login: The email address given at enrolment e.g james.brown@gmail.com

Password:

- For new students commencing in 2015: day and month of your birth (DD/MM) and the last three digits of your UDiv student number. For example if your date of birth is 01/01/1970 and if your student number is 201512345, your password would be: 01/01345 (remember to include the forward slash).
- For existing students: either the configuration above, or you may have changed your password.

Online Submission – Turnitin

Turnitin is an electronic tool within ARK and is used for student assignment submission, originality checking and online marking. Turnitin is mandated for the submission of all written assessment for all units with the possible exception of short papers (500-700 words), if instructed by the lecturer.

The originality check and text-matching feature of Turnitin provides the student with the opportunity to review reference material and to check citations. This feature can also assist staff to identify possible instances of incorrect citation or plagiarism.

Instructions for uploading written assessment to Turnitin are provided in Unit Outlines. After a student submits an assignment, Turnitin automatically generates a receipt which is sent by email to the student, confirming the successful submission. Instructions are available from the CTC website: www.ctc.edu.au.

Some lecturers may use the online marking feature (GradeMark) on Turnitin. In these instances, students will be able to view marked assessments online. Assessments that have been corrected online can be downloaded along with comments. Once the mark is posted it is highly recommended that the paper is downloaded by the student (assessments will be archived by the following semester and no longer available to the student). Instructions for downloading assessments marked online can be found in the ARK guide available on the CTC website: www.ctc.edu.au.

Format for Uploading an Assessment to Turnitin

Students are required to create a simple title page for assessments that includes the following information:

- Unit Name
- Assessment Title
- Lecturer's Name
- Student Name
- Student Number

All pages are to be numbered.

Student name and number is to be included in the header of each page.

Assignments

Assignments are presented in the format prescribed in the Style Guide (see pages 63–68). Use of this Style Guide is taken into account in the assessment of assignments.

Assignments are submitted through Turnitin via the ARK Learning Management System. For instructions on how to submit an essay through Turnitin see the instructions on page 55.

In exceptional circumstances technical issues may prevent a student to lodge the assignment online on time. In this case the assignment should be emailed immediately to the lecturer and Registrar, and later submitted through Turnitin as usual.

Assignments must be submitted before the due date as listed on the Unit Outline.

Students should keep copies of all written work for at least three months. All written materials that contribute towards assessment must be available for possible inspection by a second examiner from outside CTC.

Return of assignments:

- during semester, assignments are either handed back by lecturers or are available online through Turnitin via the ARK Learning Management System.
- once the semester has ended, assignments can be collected from the Academic Records Office (proof of ID must be shown).
- seminarians' assignments are returned via their Rectors/Deans of Studies.

Copyright

The attention of staff and students is drawn to their responsibility to observe regulations imposed by the Copyright Act, available from the Australian Copyright Council's website: www.copyright.org.au.

Examination Conduct

When sitting for an examination, students are demonstrating their ability to comprehend the material that has been presented throughout the unit.

The full version of the College Examination Conduct Policy is available from the CTC website: www.ctc.edu.au.

Time and Venue

Examinations are at the same place and same start time as lectures unless otherwise stated by the lecturer.

There is no entry to the examination room before the invigilator indicates students may enter. Silence is to be observed in the examination room.

Permitted Items

Items permitted in the examination room are pens/pencils/erasers and bottled water.

Notes and student readers permitted by the lecturer for the examination may be brought to the desk.

Writing paper is provided.

Dictionaries and/or electronic translators brought into the examination room may be checked by the invigilator.

Prohibited Items

Prohibited items include:

- mobile phones
- electronic notebooks
- organisers
- laptop or palm-held top computers

Electronic devices must be turned off and placed with the student's personal belongings.

All personal items not permitted for the examination are to be placed at the back of the examination room.

Reading Time

The examination period commences with a set reading time of 10 minutes.

During reading time students may make notes on the exam paper or loose blank pages. However, no writing whatsoever may be done on the examination answer papers during this reading time.

English as a Second Language

Students for whom English is a Second Language (ESL) are entitled to extra time in written examinations, amounting to one quarter of the normal time allotted.

Seminarians apply for this entitlement through their respective Dean of Studies.

Other students apply through the Academic Records Office.

Students with Special Consideration

A student may apply to the Academic Dean for permission to take an examination under special conditions.

Such an application must be made at least one week before the examination.

Oral Examinations

All oral examinations are either conducted in the presence of a second examiner or are recorded.

Examination Protocol

The CTC Examination Protocol policy outlining details for written and oral examinations as set by lecturers, is available from the CTC website.

Extensions

Due to unforeseen circumstances, students may find themselves unable to submit an assignment by the due date. Unforeseen circumstances are defined as those that

- a) are beyond the student's control; and
- b) make it impracticable for the student to complete the assessment requirements by the due date.

The UDiv Academic Conduct policy, which is available from the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au, provides for two forms of extension.

Lecturer's Extension

At his/her discretion a lecturer may grant an extension of up to two weeks for an assignment when satisfied there are reasonable grounds and that the approved extension will not give undue advantage or disadvantage to the student.

Lecturer's extensions are not permitted beyond the last day of the examination week.

For Winter Intensives, extensions are granted at the discretion of the Academic Dean.

An extension should be applied for no later than three days prior to the work being due.

Extension application forms can be downloaded from the website, or obtained from the Student Common Room and must be signed by the lecturer concerned. Students may email the completed form to the lecturer. The lecturer responds to the request using the Lecturer's Response section of the form. A copy of the completed form is placed in the student's file in the Academic Records Office.

For seminarians, the Seminary Dean of Studies must sign the form before it is presented to the lecturer.

An extension form cannot be attached to your paper when you submit online through Turnitin via the UDiv Learning Management System (ARK). Once signed by the lecturer, the original is given to the student and a copy will be held by the lecturer.

Students who submit an assignment after the newly agreed due date will normally be penalised academically. For more information see page 60.

Dean's Extension

The Academic Dean may grant an extension of up to 28 days beyond the last day of the examination week of a semester when there are medical or serious pastoral grounds for this, and when satisfied that no undue advantage or disadvantage may occur for the student.

A Dean's extension should be applied for no later than five days prior to the work being due and, in the case of extension on medical grounds, students must present a medical certificate.

For seminarians, the Seminary Dean of Studies must also sign the form.

The Dean consults with the lecturer before granting an extension.

The extension and its conditions are recorded on the Dean's response section of the form and signed by the Dean and the student, with copies retained by both. The Dean sends a copy of the completed form to the Academic Records Office to be placed in the student's file.

For Winter Intensives, extensions are granted at the discretion of the Academic Dean.

An extension form cannot be attached to your paper when you submit online via through Turnitin via the UDiv Learning Management System (ARK). Once signed by the Dean, the original is given to the student and a copy will be held by the Dean.

Students who submit an assignment after the newly agreed due date will normally be penalised academically. For more information see page 60.

An extension of longer than four weeks after the due date for the assignment will not be granted unless warranted by exceptional circumstances.

Forms are available from the Academic Records Office and the CTC website: www.ctc.edu.au.

Grades for Coursework Units

High Distinction (HD) = 85+

- Outstanding attainment of the set unit learning goals and outcomes
- Outstanding comprehension of unit content (knowledge and skills)
- Outstanding level of argument/discussion of material, referenced from unit bibliography and elsewhere
- Outstanding written expression and competence in writing, indicating the highest level of academic achievement in the unit

Distinction (D) = 75–84

- High attainment of unit learning goals and outcomes
- High comprehension of unit ideas and content
- High capacity or developing a high capacity for original and creative thinking
- High level of academic achievement (expression and writing skills) in assessment tasks

Credit (C) = 65–74

- Sound attainment of unit learning goals and outcomes
- Sound grasp of the required core work of the unit
- Demonstrated sound capacity to analyse or evaluate or develop the set topic in assessment tasks
- Sound grasp of key ideas of unit content, that is, able to understand and repeat key ideas

Pass (P) = 50–64

- Satisfactory attainment of basic learning outcomes
- Has satisfactorily understood the required core work of the unit or at least a reasonable amount
- Satisfactory level of argument/discussion in completion of set assessment exercises
- Satisfactory, that is, comprehensible English expression

Fail (F) = 0–49

- Inadequate attainment of basic learning outcomes
- Inadequate understanding of the required core work
- Inadequate level of argument/discussion in completing unit assessment
- Inadequate expression in assignment writing
- Examples could include (cumulatively) inadequate bibliography, poor expression and grammar, addressing the topic indirectly, little evidence of structure in assessment tasks, gross errors and/or plagiarism, unsatisfactory attendance

Withdrawal (W)

This grade is awarded if a student has withdrawn from a after the census date of the semester concerned. This result is not to be regarded as any form of academic credit, nor does it prejudice the student's academic record.

Extension (E)

This code is granted where an extension of time for completing assessments has been given under special circumstances. Assessments must normally be completed within one semester. Any grade may subsequently be given.

Late Work

All written work, whether submitted on time or not, will be graded and returned to students with appropriate pedagogical feedback, and an indication of the grade which represents its intrinsic academic worth.

Work that is submitted after the due date, without an official extension, will be penalised academically. However, the Academic Dean may exercise discretion for medical or serious pastoral reasons.

- Work submitted up to one week late without an official extension will be awarded a grade one level below its intrinsic worth, as follows:
 - High Distinction reduced to Distinction (with a mark of 84)
 - Distinction reduced to a Credit (with a mark of 74)
 - Credit reduced to Pass (with a mark of 64)
 - Pass recorded as a Pass (with a mark of 50)
- Work submitted between one and four weeks late without an official extension will be awarded a Pass grade only (with a mark of 50), unless it fails to reach a pass standard
- Work submitted more than four weeks late without an official extension will be awarded a Fail grade

Plagiarism and Collusion

Plagiarism means the clear intention to deceive by passing off work as one's own which is in fact the work (in part or whole) of someone else, without full and proper acknowledgement of the source. Plagiarism may take a number of forms, e.g., direct copying.

Collusion is the intentional presentation by a student of an item of assessment as their own work which is in fact the result (in part or whole) of unauthorised collaboration with another person or persons.

Plagiarism, collusion and other similar activities undermine the academic integrity of the assessment process.

All work submitted for assessment must be the independent work of the person concerned. Students agree to a statement declaring the work as their own in the process of submission of each assessment item through Turnitin via the UDiv Learning Management System (ARK).

All written assignments for all units are submitted through Turnitin via the Learning Management System (ARK) with the possible exception of short papers (500–750 words) which lecturers may request to be submitted directly to them in class. For more information see page 55.

UDiv has a policy for Academic Misconduct which can be found at www.divinity.edu.au.

When a high percentage of similarity is detected in a student's assignment by a lecturer the first consideration is whether there is intent to deceive or whether the student is lacking academic skills to acknowledge sources and paraphrase correctly.

Where it is judged that there is no intent to deceive, the student will be referred to a tutor. Students may also avail themselves of the Academic Skills Support (see page 48).

A student who is found to have engaged in plagiarism and/or collusion may be liable to:

- suspension of candidature for the degree; or
- failure of the unit for which the written work or examination was undertaken; or
- fail grade for the written work or examination.

Results

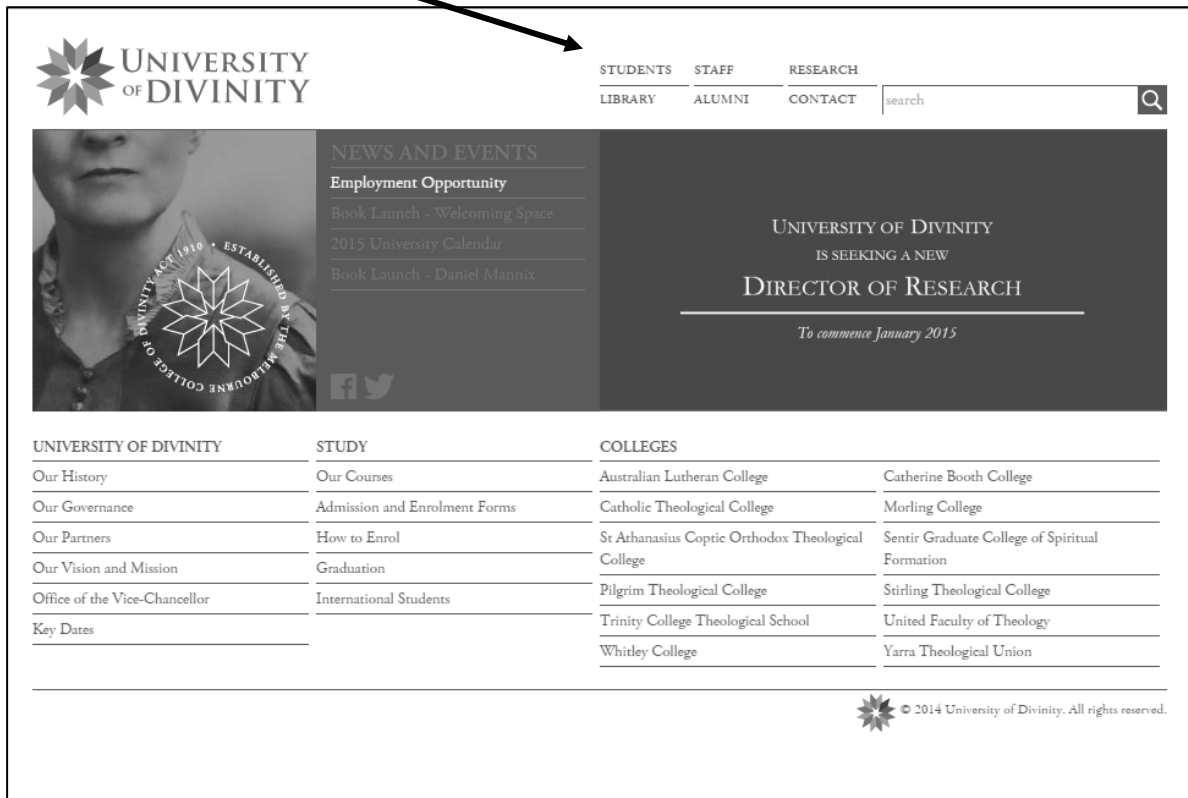

Once approved by the UDiv Director of Administration, results are posted each semester online on the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

A hardcopy of annual academic results is mailed in mid-December.

Results are not issued to students with unpaid tuition fees.

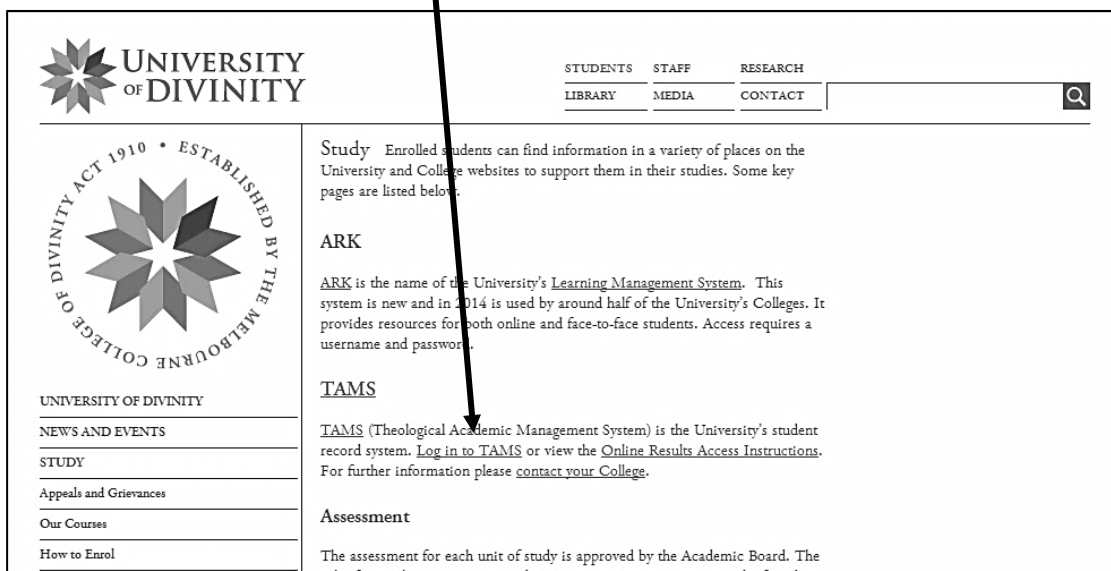

1. Login to the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au

2. Click on Students

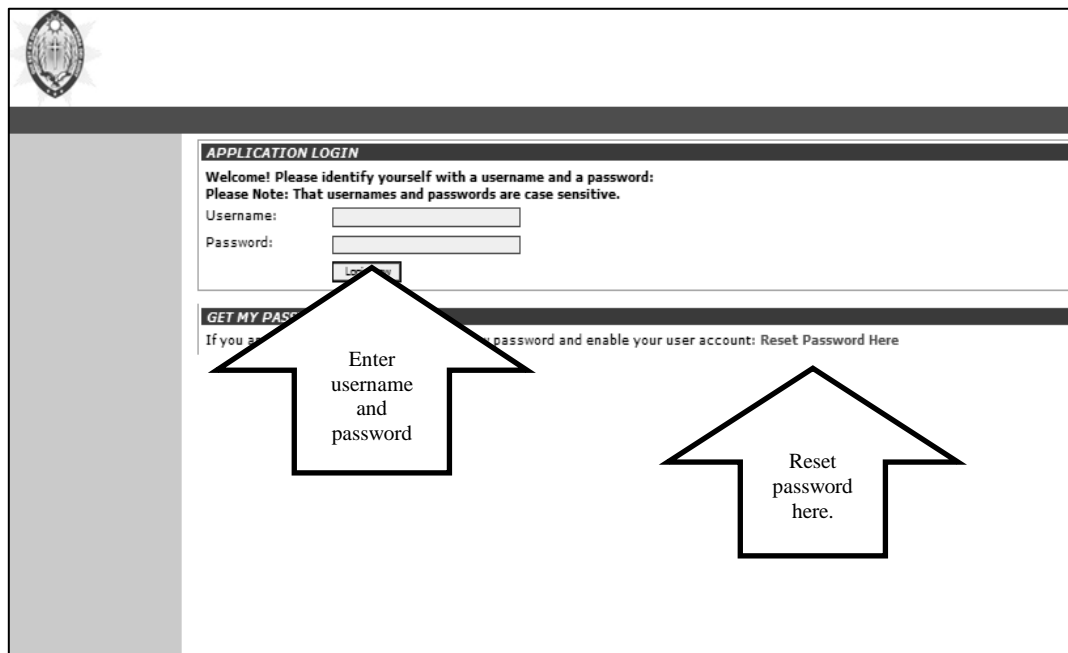

The screenshot shows the University of Divinity website homepage. At the top left is the University of Divinity logo. To the right is a navigation menu with links for STUDENTS, STAFF, RESEARCH, LIBRARY, ALUMNI, and CONTACT. A search bar is located to the right of the navigation menu. Below the navigation menu is a banner area with a large image of a person's face on the left and text on the right that reads: "UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY IS SEEKING A NEW DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH To commence January 2015". Below the banner is a table with three columns: UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY, STUDY, and COLLEGES. The UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY column lists links like "Our History", "Our Governance", etc. The STUDY column lists "Our Courses", "Admission and Enrolment Forms", etc. The COLLEGES column lists various colleges like "Australian Lutheran College", "Catherine Booth College", etc. At the bottom right of the page is a small logo and the text "© 2014 University of Divinity. All rights reserved."

3. Click on Login in to TAMS.

The screenshot shows the 'STUDY' section of the University of Divinity website. The navigation menu at the top is the same as in the previous screenshot. The main content area has a heading 'Study' followed by a paragraph: "Enrolled students can find information in a variety of places on the University and College websites to support them in their studies. Some key pages are listed below." Below this is a section titled 'ARK' with a paragraph: "ARK is the name of the University's Learning Management System. This system is new and in 2014 is used by around half of the University's Colleges. It provides resources for both online and face-to-face students. Access requires a username and password." Below that is a section titled 'TAMS' with a paragraph: "TAMS (Theological Academic Management System) is the University's student record system. Log in to TAMS or view the Online Results Access Instructions. For further information please contact your College." Below that is a section titled 'Assessment' with a paragraph: "The assessment for each unit of study is approved by the Academic Board. The rules for marking assessment and sitting written examinations may be found in". On the left side of the page, there is a sidebar with a large circular logo and a list of links: "UNIVERSITY OF DIVINITY", "NEWS AND EVENTS", "STUDY", "Appeals and Grievances", "Our Courses", and "How to Enrol". An arrow points from the 'Login to TAMS' link in the text to the 'TAMS' section.

4. Enter username and password.

The image shows a screenshot of a web application login page. At the top left is a circular logo. Below it is a dark horizontal bar. The main content area has a white background with a dark header bar containing the text "APPLICATION LOGIN". Below this header, there is a welcome message: "Welcome! Please identify yourself with a username and a password: Please Note: That usernames and passwords are case sensitive." This is followed by two input fields: "Username:" and "Password:". Below the password field is a "Log In" button. A large black arrow points from the text "Enter username and password" to the input fields. Below the login section is another dark header bar with the text "GET MY PASSWORD". Below this, there is a link that says "Reset Password Here". A second large black arrow points from the text "Reset password here." to the "Reset Password Here" link.

Your user name and password is the same as your logon details for ARK.

If you are experiencing trouble logging on click “Reset Password” type in your username and date of birth and a new password will be emailed to you.

Special Consideration

Special consideration may be given in serious and exceptional circumstances which are beyond a student’s control and which prevent a student from performing at their best for a particular component of assessment.

If students believe their assessment in a unit has been, or is likely to be, adversely affected by illness or other causes, they may apply for special consideration.

Special consideration for assessment should be discussed with the lecturer and the Academic Dean.

Style Guide

In academic writing, a “style” is a kind of template or format that governs the consistent and accurate acknowledgement of direct quotations from other authors and of the source of key ideas. Different academic institutions use different “styles” for the citation of the sources used in compiling written work. Normally the CTC Style Guide (Chicago 16, Turabian 8th ed.) is used for all assessments.

Parts of an Essay

- Title Page (see page 55)
- Text
- Bibliography
- If Required
 - Table of Contents (if the essay is divided into distinct sections or chapters)
 - List of Abbreviations
 - Synopsis
 - Appendices

Presentation

- All essays are submitted electronically through Turnitin via the UDiv Learning Management System (ARK). For more information see page 55.
- Essays are typed on A4-sized paper.
- The left-hand margin is 3cm, and other margins are at least 2cm.
- Text is in a 12-point font and double-spaced (except in lengthy quotations, footnotes and bibliography, which are single spaced).
- Pages are numbered in the top right-hand corner.
- Student name and student number are to appear in the header (top left corner) of each page.
- Essays should be within 10% of the stipulated length (not counting footnotes, bibliography and lengthy quotations).
- Inclusive language should be used where possible.
- Foreign words are italicised, except when used in actual script, e.g. Greek or Hebrew

Quotations

Whenever another author’s words are included in an essay, this is a quotation and must be indicated in one of the following two ways:

Short quotations (up to about three lines) are incorporated in the body of the text and enclosed in double quotation marks.

Lengthy quotations are single-spaced and indented by 1cm from both margins, with no quotation marks. These quotations are not normally included in the word count for an assignment.

Punctuation

End of quotation:	period/comma always inside	.” or ,”
	semicolon/colon always outside	”; or ”:
	when the quotation itself is a question	?”
	if you are questioning the quotation	”?

Content omitted within a quotation is indicated by three ellipsis points: ...

Scriptural References

Scriptural references are included, in brackets, in the body of the text, rather than in notes.

In scriptural references:

- a colon is placed between chapter and verse(s): e.g. Ex 12:1
- a hyphen placed between verse numbers indicates a block of verses e.g. Ex 12:1-5
- a comma (followed by a space) is placed between different verses within the same chapter of a book: e.g. Ex 12:1-5, 10, 17-19
- a semicolon (followed by a space) is placed between references from different chapters of the same book and between references from different books e.g. Ex 12:1-5; 20:2; Deut 5:8; 10:2-4

When a part only of a verse is referred to, ‘a’ or ‘b’ may be added according to whether the first or second part is concerned: e.g., Mt 16:16b; Rom 5:12a.

Abbreviations of biblical books are as follows:

OT:	Gen	Ex	Lev	Num	Deut	Josh
	Judg	Ruth	1–2 Sam	1–2 Kings	1–2 Chr	Ezra
	Neh	Tob	Jdt	Esth	1–2 Macc	Job
	Ps	Prov	Eccl	Song	Wis	Sir
	Isa	Jer	Lam	Bar	Ezek	Dan
	Hos	Joel	Am	Ob	Jon	Mic
	Nah	Hab	Zeph	Hag	Zech	Mal
NT:	Mt	Mk	Lk	Jn	Acts	Rom
	1–2 Cor	Gal	Eph	Phil	Col	1–2 Thess
	1–2 Tim.	Titus	Phlm	Heb	Jas	1–2 Pet
	1–2–3 Jn	Jude	Rev

References

Essays and assignments must contain appropriate referencing, including footnotes (as required) and a bibliography. References are to be in the Note – Bibliography format of the ‘Chicago Style,’ as set out in:

Turabian, Kate L. A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations: Chicago Style for Students and Researchers. 8th ed. Revised by Wayne C. Booth, Gregory G. Colomb, and the University of Chicago Press Editorial Staff. Chicago: University of Chicago Press, 2013.

What follows is a summary of important elements of this style.

Students should refer to chapters 16 and 17 of the above text for any further clarification that is required, and for details not explicitly mentioned here.

EndNote referencing software is available to postgraduate and research students. For more information see page 50.

Footnotes

Footnotes are used to acknowledge the sources of information for an essay or assignment. Careful use of footnotes shows the research that underlies an essay, and allows readers to identify and retrieve references for their own use. See Turabian 16.1.

Footnotes should be used to indicate the source for:

- all direct quotations
- any paraphrase or summary of an author's ideas or arguments (i.e., putting someone else's thoughts into your own words)

Information obtained from the internet or from other electronic resources must be cited.

Footnotes are marked in the text by a superscript number at the end of the sentence or quotation to which the note refers (after any punctuation). At the bottom of the page, the number is repeated, followed by the necessary information.

Footnotes are single-spaced and numbered consecutively throughout the essay. They may be printed in a smaller font size than the body of the essay.

Basic Format: Given name Surname, Title (City of publication: Publisher, year), page.

Other information, such as the name of the edition, volume number, editor, and series, is included between the title and publishing details, each followed by a comma.

The first reference to a text should give full publication details. Subsequent references only need to include the author's surname and the title (appropriately shortened).

Ibid. and op. cit. should not be used.

Bibliography

The bibliography lists the major works that have been consulted in researching the essay, including all texts that are cited in footnotes. See Turabian 16.2.

The bibliography is single-spaced and arranged alphabetically by author's surname. A hanging indent is used when the reference exceeds one line (see example below). A blank line is left between each entry. If the next entry is by the same author three em-dashes are used in place of the author's name (see example below).

Basic Format: Surname, Given name. Title. City of publication: Publisher, year.

Other information, such as the name of the edition, volume number, editor, and series, is included between the title and publishing details, each followed by a period.

Example:

Dulles, Avery R. The Craft of Theology: From Symbol to System. New expanded ed. New York: Crossroad Publishing, 1995.

———. Models of Revelation. Garden City: Doubleday, 1983.

Academic Formation for Ordained Ministry

Courses of study at CTC can satisfy academic requirements for the following formation programs:

- Ordination to the Priesthood
- Permanent Diaconate Program
- Personal Ordinariate of Our Lady of the Southern Cross

Ordination to the Priesthood

CTC offers the academic studies required by students preparing for ordination to the Catholic priesthood, through the awards of UDiv. The authorities of the affiliated seminaries are responsible for deciding when a candidate has successfully completed the academic requirements for ordination to the priesthood.

What academic training is required?

Seminarians undertake an academic program which generally includes a degree in theology, and studies in canon law, pastoral care and liturgy. Once admitted to the program interested men undertake up to seven years of studies, usually beginning at Bachelor of Theology level.

Academic Information

The authorities of the affiliated seminaries, in consultation with the CTC Academic Dean, plan a program of studies for each candidate.

For information on relevant courses refer to the following sections in this handbook:

To find out more about this program, visit the website www.cam.org.au/vocations, or the various seminary websites listed on page 17.

Permanent Diaconate Program

Catholic Theological College offers the academic studies required by the Office for the Permanent Diaconate of the Archdiocese of Melbourne. The Director of this office is responsible for deciding whether a candidate has successfully completed appropriate units to enable him to be presented for ordination.

What training is required?

Deacons undertake a similar formation process to students for the priesthood, which generally includes a degree in theology, and studies in canon law, pastoral care and liturgy. Once admitted to the program, interested men begin as aspirants, attending monthly meetings with the emphasis on spiritual formation and development of a community of aspirants. An applicant then petitions the Archbishop to be accepted as a candidate for ordination to the diaconate. Candidates undertake the equivalent of up to three years of full-time studies, usually at Bachelor of Theology level. During the later stages of the program, a candidate is installed by the Archbishop in the ministries of reader and acolyte. The formation process takes approximately four years.

Academic Information

The Office of the Permanent Diaconate in consultation with the CTC Academic Dean, plans a program of studies for each candidate.

For information on relevant courses refer to the following sections in this handbook:

Personal Ordinariate of Our Lady of the Southern Cross

Catholic Theological College offers the academic studies required for priestly ordination in the Personal Ordinariate of Our Lady of the Southern Cross. The Ordinariate is part of the Roman Rite of the Catholic Church. The Ordinary is responsible for deciding when a candidate has completed appropriate studies to enable him to be presented for ordination.

What academic training is required?

Candidates for ordination within the Ordinariate undertake an academic program which may include units of study in biblical studies, systematic theology, canon law, pastoral theology and liturgy.

Academic Information

In consultation with the Ordinary, CTC Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) plans a program of studies suitable for each candidate.

Undergraduate Studies

Undergraduate Studies

CTC offers a wide and stimulating program of undergraduate studies in theology and related areas. These studies can be undertaken either for the highly-regarded awards of UDiv, or by audit (without assessment or credit) for personal or professional enrichment.

- The Diploma in Theology is a foundational award in theology and related disciplines of study.
- The Advanced Diploma in Theology and Ministry is a comprehensive award in theology and related disciplines of study.
- The Advanced Diploma in Philosophy is an award that gives the opportunity for specialised study in Philosophy at undergraduate level. It may be enrolled in as an independent award, including introductory studies in the main theological disciplines, or in combination with a Bachelor of Theology.
- The Bachelor of Ministry degree is a complementary undergraduate degree to the Bachelor of Theology, with particular emphasis on pastoral theology and pastoral praxis.
- The Bachelor of Theology degree is the main undergraduate degree at CTC in which the majority of our students are enrolled. It gives the student a comprehensive grounding in theology and its related disciplines of study.
- The Bachelor of Theology (Honours) degree is a further year's study following the pass degree, consisting of coursework and an honours thesis. This award can lead to postgraduate study.
- Through a formal agreement with Monash University it is also possible to do a combined Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Theology degree, subject to the admission requirements of both universities.

Bachelor of Ministry – BMin

Cricos Code: 077753M

The Bachelor of Ministry is a comprehensive three-year undergraduate degree enabling students to acquire sound foundations in the discipline of pastoral theology. The Bachelor of Ministry has a more intentional focus than the Bachelor of Theology on the practice of ministry, especially pastoral praxis and supervision. The degree course is designed to prepare women and men for various ministries in Church and society. The course includes a sequence of ministry units which provides opportunities for practical ministry experience. Students may choose supervised ministry praxis units from a variety of offerings across the Colleges of UDiv.

Entry requirements

VCE (normal entry), or mature-age entry (applicants over 21 years of age)

Structure

24 units or equivalent (360 credit points) comprising:

- 90 points in one discipline in Field D, including at least 30 points at third level and no more than 30 points at first level (major); not including supervised ministry praxis units
- 60 points in Biblical Studies including at least 30 points at second level or higher (submajor), and including minor sequences in each of Old Testament and New Testament
- 60 points of ministry praxis units, e.g. Clinical Pastoral Education, Supervised Theological Field Education or other supervised practice (submajor)
- 60 points in Systematic Theology including at least 30 points at second level or higher (submajor)
- 30 points in Church History (minor)
- 60 points of electives from Fields A, B, C or D
- At least 60 points of the degree must be taken at third level

A major sequence consists of 90 points in the same discipline over all three levels including at least 30 points at level three and no more than 30 points at level one.

A sub-major sequence consists of 60 points in the same discipline including at least 30 points at level two.

A minor sequence consists of 30 points in the same discipline.

Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Ministry

For students undertaking both the Bachelor of Theology and Bachelor of Ministry degrees, up to 180 points may be held in common between the two degrees. The minimum duration of this double degree is 4.5 years.

Normal Duration

3 – 9 years

Articulation

- Graduate Certificate in Theology
- Specialised Graduate Certificates
- Graduate Diploma in Theology
- Specialised Graduate Diplomas
- Master of Arts (Theology)
- Master of Theological Studies

The Bachelor of Theology gives the student a comprehensive grounding in theology and its related disciplines of study. It requires three years' full-time study (or equivalent part-time) and consists of units of study from humanities, biblical studies, Christian thought and history, and moral and pastoral theology.

A new structure for the BTheol was introduced in 2009, and revised in 2011.

Students enrolled prior to 2009 may:

- continue under the old structure (see page 91), which remains in effect unit 2017;
or
- transfer to the new structure (as below).

Entrance Requirements

VCE (normal entry), or mature-age entry (applicants over 21 years of age)

Structure

24 units or equivalent (360 credit points), comprising:

- Three sub-major sequences
 - Biblical Studies (including minor sequences in each Testament)
 - Systematic Theology, and
 - Theology: Mission and Ministry (Field D) or one discipline in Humanities (Field A)
- Two of these sub-major sequences must articulate to major sequences
- Two minor sequences in
 - Church History, and
 - Any one discipline
- 60 points from one or more disciplines
- At least 60 points must be included from Theology: Mission and Ministry (Field D)

A major sequence consists of 90 points in the same discipline over all three levels including at least 30 points at level three and no more than 30 points at level one.

A sub-major sequence consists of 60 points in the same discipline including at least 30 points at level two.

A minor sequence consists of 30 points in the same discipline.

CTC, as a college of UDiv, makes an internal requirement that all students undertaking the Bachelor of Theology degree from 2011 study two Philosophy (AP) units, as recommended by the Academic Dean, as part of their degree.

Full details of the regulation governing the Bachelor of Theology are available from the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Normal Duration

or
- transfer to the new structure (see page 89).

Structure

24 units or equivalent (360 credit points) are required to complete the degree.

At least 60 points, but not more than 180 points, must be obtained in each of Fields B, C and D and not more than 120 points in Field A.

At least 30 points must be included from each of:

- Old Testament (Field B)
- New Testament (Field B)
- Systematic Theology (Field C)
- Church History (Field C).

Each candidate is required to include either two majors, or one major and two submajors. (A Major is a six-unit sequence within a discipline; a submajor is a four-unit sequence.) In both cases, a major from Field B or Field C is normally included. A single major in Field D is permitted provided there are submajors in Fields B and C. The course is normally studied over not fewer than three and not more than nine years.

Bachelor of Theology (Honours) – BTheol(Hons)

Cricos Code: 053991F

Following the completion of the Bachelor of Theology, students may enrol in the Bachelor of Theology (Honours) degree which is a further year's study, consisting of coursework and an honours thesis. This award can lead to postgraduate study.

The Honours degree is undertaken in a particular discipline or combination of disciplines, as approved for each candidate by the UDiv Learning and Teaching Committee.

Each candidate works in consultation with a supervisor nominated by the relevant college and approved by the UDiv Learning and Teaching Committee.

Attention of Honours students is drawn to the following: Candidates undertaking Honours in Old Testament are expected to be proficient in Hebrew, and candidates undertaking Honours in New Testament are expected to be proficient in NT Greek.

Entrance Requirements

Bachelor of Theology (Pass) or equivalent, with a Distinction average in the discipline chosen for Honours.

Structure

In addition to the requirements of the pass degree, each candidate must successfully complete:

- four units at level three, in the approved Honours discipline(s), which may include a Research Methodologies unit deemed appropriate by the student's coursework coordinator. For more information regarding this unit see page 369.
- an Honours Thesis of 12,000-words. Further information is available from the Academic Dean
- any additional units specified by the UDiv Learning and Teaching Committee

Normal Duration

1 – 2 years

Articulation Bachelor of Theology with Honours (High Distinction or Distinction):

- Master of Philosophy
- Master of Theology
- Doctor of Philosophy
- Doctor of Theology

Bachelor of Arts/Bachelor of Theology – BA/BTheol

Cricos Code: 011489A

The opportunity to study a combined degree programme is offered by UDiv in conjunction with Monash University (Monash). Admission to either programme is dependent on meeting the requirements of both UDiv and Monash.

Students enrol separately in both institutions by direct entry.

When studied separately, each degree requires 360 credit points.

This arrangement envisages 4 years full-time study to complete the double degree.

Structure

The Bachelor of Theology component of the double degree requires a student to fulfil the basic structural requirements of this degree as outlined in UDiv regulations, including at least 240 Bachelor of Theology credit points.

Regulations for the Monash Bachelor of Arts component of the double degree may be obtained from Monash or the CTC Academic Dean.

Normal Duration

4 – 8 years

Articulation

- Graduate Diploma in Theology
- Specialised Graduate Diplomas
- Master of Arts (Theology)
- Master of Theological Studies

Undergraduate Units

Supervised Reading Unit (SRU)

Students can undertake personalised study within a discipline through a Supervised Reading Unit (SRU).

Supervised Reading Unit Outline Form

The student, supervisor, and Course Coordinator should work together to complete this form. Once completed, this outline must be approved by the Course Coordinator and potentially by an Approver, an academic with expertise in the discipline of the SRU.

This SRU outline must be completed by the end of week five of semester.

Prerequisites: two level-two units, in the same discipline
e.g. SRU in Church History requires two units of Church History at level two Requirements: Students are required to attend regular sessions/seminars with their supervisor, during which they will be guided in their personal research.

Assessment: 5,000 – 6,000 words (15 points) 100%

Semester 2, 2015
Monday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit is designed to enable students with a background in Biblical Hebrew to advance their Hebrew skills through the guided reading of selected Hebrew texts. Passages will be chosen from both prose (Standard Biblical Hebrew) and poetic texts including archaic Hebrew texts, with a majority taken from the poetic texts. Attention will be given to a morphological and syntactical explanation of the texts as well as text critical matters. Building on previous study, students at level three will approach the texts in a more critical manner.

This unit (and its complement AL1302C Introductory Ecclesiastical Latin B) introduces the basic grammar and vocabulary of ecclesiastical Latin, and develops the skills of translating ecclesiastical Latin into English. The unit will proceed with a general introduction to ecclesiastical Latin, and an explanation of the pedagogical technique used in class. Thereafter the core mode of instruction will be working through units 1-19 of John F. Collins, A Primer of Ecclesiastical Latin (Washington: Catholic University of America, 1985). Students are strongly advised to have a copy of Collin's primer in class. Classes will be a mixture of lectures presenting new material, and tutorials to drill material, revise previous material, practice translating, and discuss difficulties. Time will also be reserved for in-class tests.

An Introduction to Philosophy for Theology AP1000C

The unit provides an overview of some major concepts and thinkers in the western philosophical tradition that are relevant for the study of theology. It is suitable both as a preparation for theological studies and also as an introduction for students wishing to pursue further philosophical studies. Thinkers studied may include: Plato, Aristotle, Anselm, Aquinas, Descartes, Locke, Hume, Kant, Nietzsche and Heidegger. Themes studied may include arguments for the existence of God, the classical attributes of God, consideration of the problem of evil, the nature of religious language, the human person, ethics and the nature of the Good, natural law and political philosophy.

Academic Writing, Critical Thinking, and Logic AP1001C

This unit assists students to develop skills in argument analysis and development, language analysis (e.g. evaluating the use of analogies), the identification of fallacies, critical thinking and the preparation of critical summaries of academic texts. These logical and critical thinking skills are basic to tertiary education, and are required for any academic study in the humanities. The unit also introduces and trains students in key academic skills such as paraphrasing, appropriate referencing, and using library resources to develop a bibliography for a particular topic.

Philosophy of the Human Person and Society AP1002C

This unit is devoted to the systematic examination of the basic presuppositions, concepts and theoretical frameworks that have shaped the Western philosophical understanding of the human person as individual and social. The topics covered in this unit include nature, agency and subjectivity, bodiliness, sexual difference, the personal capacity for transcendence; the basis, purpose and structure of the state's authority; liberalism and distributive justice. A number of contemporary approaches to the understanding of human nature will be discussed in relation to the human person as a moral and social subject.

Know Thyself: Introduction to Greek Philosophy

AP1100C

This unit is an introduction to Greek philosophical thought. The Greek tradition is the foundation of all other Western philosophy and its history has profoundly influenced Christian thought and practice. Authors and schools of thought to be studied include pre-Socratics, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Stoics, and Epicureans. Students will be introduced to the historical period, and to topics such as nature, being, life and death, soul, freedom, immortality, the state, art, and God.

What is the good? Why should we act according to it? How do we determine what is ethically good? This unit introduces students to the foundations of ethics by a critical study of the major approaches to ethics in the Western philosophical tradition – including Socratic ethics, virtue ethics, deontology and utilitarianism. It studies natural law theory in greater detail, and highlights the diversity among classical theories of natural law, by comparing thinkers such as Albert the Great, Thomas Aquinas, John Duns Scotus, William of Ockham, Francisco Suarez and Gabriel Vazquez. By drawing on key texts from both ancient and contemporary thinkers, the unit examines basic ethical concepts such as virtue, conscience, moral responsibility, moral norms, and the common good. It provides a solid grounding for advanced studies in ethics and moral theology.

Philosophers of the middle ages investigated such ‘modern’ concerns as cosmology and freedom, the question of being, scepticism about truth and immortality, the nature of happiness and ‘the good life’, love and hate, political authority, beauty, faith and reason. This unit explores texts from the fourth to the fourteenth century that address such concerns. It considers the historical milieu, philosophical thought and selected texts of authors that may include Augustine, Boethius, Erigena, Avicenna, Anselm, Abelard, Peter Lombard, Hildegard, Phillip the Chancellor, Albert, Bonaventure, Aquinas, Siger of Brabant, Roger Bacon, Matthew of Aquasparta, Eckhart, Scotus, and Ockham.

Medieval Philosophy Elaborating Faith: Thomistic Metaphysics and Ethics

This unit explores the thought of the medieval philosopher and theologian Thomas Aquinas (1225–74), with a focus on his ethics and his metaphysics. It is suitable as an introduction both to medieval philosophy and to the main elements of Thomistic thought. The unit examines selected themes in Aquinas in their medieval context, in the context of Aquinas' own thought, and in the context of the later history of Thomism. The unit introduces some key Thomistic doctrines and the fundamental concepts of Thomistic philosophy, in addition to 'patterns of thought' that are distinctively Thomistic. Topics covered may include: metaphysics and the real distinction of being and esse, virtue theory, natural law, cosmology and the perfection of the universe, the human soul and immortality.

Descartes' Meditations is one of the most significant texts in Western thought. It marks the beginning of a focus on the natural sciences as the paradigm for knowledge and certainty. It incorporates conceptualizations of God, human nature, knowledge and reality that continue to influence contemporary thought. This unit begins with a detailed critical reading of the Meditations. It then examines excerpts from major texts by other significant philosophers of the period, who may include Hobbes, Spinoza, Cudworth, More, Locke, Newton, Clarke, Hume and Kant. The unit focuses on themes such as the relation of body and soul, the question of certain knowledge and the relationship between scientific, theological and common-sense world views. In addition, attention is given to the dispute between those philosophers engaged in sceptical or atheistic attacks on religion, and those philosophers engaged with defending religion made by other early modern philosophers.

Twentieth-Century Philosophy: Existentialism, Phenomenology, and Hermeneutics AP2160C/3160C

Thought about God has re-emerged as a fundamental interest for contemporary continental philosophy. Is it possible to think about God at all? If so, in what way? This unit examines developments in twentieth-century continental philosophy that establish the framework for contemporary thought about metaphysics, God and faith. Particular attention will be given to major texts covering nihilism, existentialism, phenomenology, hermeneutics, and postmodern thought.

Recent Issues in Continental Philosophy AP2161C/3161C

Friedrich Nietzsche called the foundations of the western intellectual tradition into question. Throughout the twentieth century, philosophers have built on Nietzsche's discrediting of metaphysical thought, and sought new ways of thinking about truth and reality by engaging with cultural discourses such as aesthetics, politics, and ethics. In figures such as Paul Ricoeur, Emmanuel Levinas, and Jean-Luc Marion, this has opened the way to new possibilities for exploring transcendence and thought about God in the twenty-first century. This unit examines areas that may include the foundations of the postmodern in Nietzsche, Lyotard, Foucault, and Deleuze; the reworking of the metaphysical tradition by the hermeneutics and aesthetics of Gadamer and Merleau-Ponty; the deconstructive strategies of Heidegger and Derrida; and the much-debated contemporary 'theological turn' in French phenomenology.

This unit explains the differences between the Hellenic concept of God (e.g. Plato, Aristotle) in comparison with the classical Christian position. It then examines classical proofs for the existence of God in the history of western philosophy, and provides an analysis of various divine attributes such as eternity, simplicity, omnipotence and omniscience. It also introduces students to philosophical accounts of our use of language to describe God, and also to various ‘problems of evil’ and examines how the existence of evil can be reconciled with an omnipotent, all-good God.

This unit explores the fundamental philosophical questions which inform the whole of reality such as: What is real, and what is merely appearance? What is the relation between being and becoming? What are universals? What is the relationship of essence and existence? How can something change and yet remain itself? What is the relation between freedom and determinism? It will provide a solid introduction to the positions of key ancient and medieval metaphysicians in the western philosophical tradition, and canonical metaphysicians in the early modern and finally, contemporary periods. It will also introduce some more recent attempts to reconceptualise traditional metaphysical categories, as well as some selected contemporary critiques of traditional metaphysics.

As an introduction to the world and literature of the Bible, this unit offers an overview of the cultural, historical, literary, social and religious contexts of the literature of the Old and New Testaments. The student will be introduced to topics such as the history of Israel, religion, cult and Temple, the Torah, and the Jewish and Greco-Roman worlds of the New Testament. Specialised topics of inspiration and canonicity in scripture will also be considered. The unit will examine the thematic and theological links between the Old and New Testaments through study of the prophetic movement and the wisdom literature. Topics will be illustrated with reference to specific texts in both testaments.

Interpreting the Bible: Critical Approaches to the Text

BS1002C

This unit is complementary to BS1001C The Biblical World: Texts and Traditions. In introducing the Bible as literature, the focus of this unit is the practical application of synchronic and diachronic methods for the exegesis of scriptural texts. The student will be engaged both in the process of selection of suitable exegetical methods and in applying the methods to texts from the Old and New Testaments.

This is an introductory unit to the literature and faith of the Old/First Testament of the Bible. It seeks to explore that literature in the context of the history, religion, culture and society of Israel as a nation of the Ancient Near East. The Old Testament is appreciated as an inspired expression of monotheistic faith in its own right. Topics covered include the Pentateuch, the prophetic movement in Israel, the wisdom movement and the psalms as expressions of Israel's praise. More specialist topics such as the canon of scripture, the interpretation of biblical texts and sacral institutions in Israel will also be introduced. Topics covered thus enable the student to appreciate something of the distinct theological character of the literature of the Old Testament.

This unit will examine the literary forms, traditions (oral and written), narratives, and theologies of the Pentateuch or Torah. In particular the unit will consider the Creation narratives in Genesis 1–11, the Joseph narratives in Genesis, Law in Deuteronomy, and the Holiness Code in Leviticus. Key passages will be selected to illustrate themes and structure. Attention will be given to the possible thematic unity and narrative integrity of the Pentateuch through the study of the theory of sources. Specialist topics such as Covenant will also be examined in the literature.

 Monday 2.00pm – 5.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit is based on an examination of the ‘Former Prophets’ or ‘Historical Books’ (Joshua – 2 Kings) as a key representative of historiography in the Old Testament. It will involve a consideration of the hypothesis of a Deuteronomistic History, identified in Deuteronomy – 2 Kings. The other key representative of Old Testament historiography (1 and 2 Chronicles) will also be examined, especially where it parallels texts in the Former Prophets. The unit will consider Israelite and Ancient Near Eastern notions of history and examine contemporary issues, problems and methods associated with the interpretation of such literature.

This unit will explore the charismatic phenomenon of prophecy in Israel: its spirit, forms, characteristic features, historical and religious context, message, and relation to Ancient Near East prophecy. The message of each prophet will be situated within its particular social, religious and political context. The unit will move from a general discussion of prophecy in Israel to examination of particular passages from minor and major prophets, to illustrate the movement and its concerns. The key theme of the unit will be the genius of the prophetic movement in Israel and its relation to the enduring values of Israelite religion. Texts to be considered include selections from Hosea, Amos, Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel.

The unit will consist of an examination of the major issues associated with contemporary study of the Book of Isaiah, namely how much can be known about the prophet Isaiah and his preaching, the hypothesis of three major editions of the book (chs. 1–39; 40–55 and 56–66), stemming from different periods in Israelite tradition, and the impact this has on one's reading of the book and its theology. The unit will also involve exegesis of selected texts in the book.

This unit is designed to enable students with a background in Biblical Hebrew to advance their Hebrew skills through the guided reading of selected Hebrew texts. Passages will be chosen from both prose (Standard Biblical Hebrew) and poetic texts including archaic Hebrew texts, with a majority taken from the poetic texts. Attention will be given to a morphological and syntactical explanation of the texts as well as text critical matters. Building on previous study, students at level three will approach the texts in a more critical manner.

Study Tour of the Biblical Lands (OT) BA2701C/3701C

This unit is one of two complementary units, one focussing upon the Old Testament (BA2701C/3701C) and the other focussing on the New Testament (BN2701C/3701C), that relate to the Study Tour of the Biblical Lands. Students may undertake both the Old and New Testament units in conjunction with this Tour or just one of the units at the appropriate level for their study.

This unit seeks to familiarize students with the archaeological, geographical, historical, sociological and theological context of the Old Testament. Emphasis will be on reading the texts in places associated with their content and history. Special attention will be given to understanding and interpreting the text in light of all the data available in the sites and museums in dialogue with classical and contemporary biblical scholarship.

Unit undertaken for credit will be completed in Semester 1 2017 and charged at 2017 rates.

The Prophecy of Jeremiah in its final form is a complex literary work of some 52 chapters, with significant differences between the two principal witnesses to the text (the masoretic and septuagint versions). This unit will offer a general overview of the Book of Jeremiah with particular emphasis on the call narrative, the oracles in chapters 1–6, the Temple sermon in chapters 7 and 26, the confessions of Jeremiah, and the narrative of the fall of Jerusalem in chapters 37–44, 52. The unit will also consider some of the specialised issues of prophecy in the Book of Jeremiah: true and false prophecy, prophetic signs, the prophet as intercessor, and prophetic charisma. The aim of the unit is a general understanding of the book's structure and themes, and a more focused knowledge of significant texts.

Ezekiel was a prophet of the Exile. His intended audience was not only the exilic community in Babylon but also the remnant community in Jerusalem after 597. His prophetic language is highly imaginative and visual. The Book of Ezekiel shows great interest in the cult, ritual and the priesthood of the Jerusalem Temple. The Book contains three great visions in narrative form: the call of the prophet in chapters 1–3, the departure of the divine presence from the doomed temple in Jerusalem in chapters 8–11, and the vision of the new sanctuary of God in the prolonged narrative of chapters 40–48. This unit will examine these three great visions in the Book in some detail. The visions offer a sustained and unique insight into Ezekiel's understanding of God, both in terms of divine presence and absence, and how God is to be worshipped in the new circumstance of exile. The visions offer new hope for a different future.

Justice, Mercy and Theodicy in the Old Testament

BA3500C

This unit will examine how the Old Testament portrays God as just, righteous, and merciful, and the criteria whereby Israel is called to be a just, righteous, and merciful society. It will consist of an analysis of justice, righteousness, and mercy and associated terminology within their literary, historical and theological contexts. It will consider how these terms and the contexts in which they occur contribute to Theodicy—the notion of God as just.

Jesus Suffering and Ours: The Gospel Stories of Jesus' Passion, Death and Resurrection

This unit studies the four Gospel accounts of Jesus' suffering, death and resurrection. A close exegetical study of these stories, climactic to each of the Gospels, and an appreciation of the literary power of the narratives, will reveal the theological meaning intended by the evangelists as they sought to offer an understanding for their first century CE audiences about the most important human event - death. The unit will also explore the contemporary implications of these narratives for our own experience of suffering and death and our hoped for resurrection.

This unit investigates the uniqueness of the Gospel of Matthew especially in contrast to the Gospel of Mark. It models and offers practice in the skill of biblical interpretation particularly in regard to redaction and source criticism and through the examination of context, content, structure and theological emphases. Detailed exegesis of selected passages assists this exploration of the Gospel of Matthew which engages current scholarship and the history of interpretation to enhance critical theological reflection.

Following a reading of the entire Gospel of Mark, the unit will discuss the origins and genre of the Gospel and its relationship to the other Synoptic Gospels. A short history of the understanding and interpretation of the Gospel will be followed by a description of various approaches that have been proposed to it. The major component of the unit comprises the close reading of the text in the order of the narrative. The exegesis of selected texts will be approached from both historical critical and narrative critical perspectives. The theology of the evangelist will be explored and discussed in close relation to the text.

Treating Luke-Acts as a single narrative arc, this unit will seek to identify the specific contribution which the Lukan Narrative makes to the New Testament, addressing the questions of its character and purpose. This will become a study of the unusually close connection between narrative and theology in Luke. The unit will read in detail key passages of both Luke and Acts in an attempt to see how the Lukan Narrative functions as a coherent whole which may speak both directly and powerfully to the Church today.

This unit will explore the background, literary character and theology of the fourth Gospel as a whole. After a presentation of the literary structure and theology of the Gospel of John, selected major passages will be read in detail. Particular detail will be devoted to those Johannine passages that play a key role in the lectionaries of the various Christian Churches. Students will be introduced to both classical and contemporary interpretation of the fourth Gospel.

This unit will situate Paul and his letters in the unfolding drama of nascent Christianity, as the first communities struggled with the question of their identity particularly in relation to Judaism. Special focus will be given to 1 Thessalonians, Galatians and Philippians. The role of the Book of Acts will be considered, particularly in its connection to Paul. Questions of the Church's identity and the possible shape of a new evangelisation are pressing in our own time: the unit will explore the Pauline witness as a resource for tackling such questions in a way which is both faithful to the past and open to the future.

Study Tour of the Biblical Lands (NT) BN2701C/3701C

This unit is one of two complementary units, one focussing upon the Old Testament (BA2701C/3701C) and the other focussing on the New Testament (BN2701C/3701C), that relate to the Study Tour of the Biblical Lands. Students may undertake both the Old and New Testament units in conjunction with this Tour or just one of the units at the appropriate level for their study.

This unit seeks to familiarize students with the archaeological, geographical, historical, sociological and theological context of the New Testament. Emphasis will be on reading the texts in places associated with their content and history. Special attention will be given to understanding and interpreting the text in light of all the data available in the sites and museums in dialogue with classical and contemporary biblical scholarship.

Unit undertaken for credit will be completed in Semester 1 2017 and charged at 2017 rates.

This unit explores the background, structure, message and theology of the Letter to the Romans. Attention will be given to the articulation of Paul's argument across Romans 1–15, with a strong focus on Paul's Christology and ecclesiology, and the relationship between Pauline Christianity and Judaism. Both classical and contemporary interpretation of the letter will be engaged. Detailed study of the text will incorporate the identification of themes of justification, law and Jewish-Gentile relations.

This unit introduces the student to the meaning, purpose, method and content of Christian theology. It examines those elements which together constitute a balanced and comprehensive engagement in the search for a deeper understanding of the Christian faith. In particular, the relationship between Scripture and Church, and the way this develops in Christian history, will be examined. The theology of Revelation will be presented as a unifying theme for the whole of this unit.

Prerequisites: one unit of Philosophy, Biblical Studies or Church History is recommended

Requirements: 3 hours per week

Assessment:	two 500 word papers	2 x 10%
	one 2,000 word essay	50%

Semester 1, 2015
Wednesday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit will examine the nature of the Church and its mission in the world. It will begin with a consideration of the nature of the Kingdom of God as proclaimed by Jesus Christ, the foundation of the Church and the nature of the apostolic and sub-apostolic churches, their diversity and unity. The understanding of “communion” which emerges from this will be the basis for a study of the contemporary understanding of the nature and structure of the Church, local and universal: ordained ministry, episcopal collegiality, the service of the bishop of Rome (primacy, infallibility) and the teaching magisterium. This will be followed by an examination of the role of lay people in the Church, the place of the parish community and the nature of evangelisation and an examination of the Church in the modern world.

The historical background to the modern ecumenical movement and the involvement of the Roman Catholic Church will be studied as an introduction to the nature and principles of ecumenism. A principal focus will be on Vatican II and post-conciliar documents on ecumenism. Attention will be paid to theological convergence through bi-lateral and multi-lateral dialogues. The topic of local ecumenism will conclude the unit.

Semester 2, 2015
Thursday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

The liturgical assembly is more than just a gathering of worshippers; rather, it is the place where we discover and express our relationship to God through the Son in the Holy Spirit, and thus achieve our true identity. As such, it is not simply something that we can describe or critique from what we have learnt in other branches of theology but it is a theological source in itself, and thus in this context also we can apply the old maxim lex orandi, lex credendi. This unit will explore, by considering the nature of human symbolic activity and examining some of the Catholic Church's rites, how liturgical theology is an independent theological discipline with its own special methodology and subject – the liturgical tradition of the Church – distinct from other theological disciplines. In this context, it will examine how the specifically sacramental rites of the Church initiate, modify or perfect us as participants in Christ's worship of the Father through the working of the Holy Spirit, so that the sacraments are seen as gifts from God by which we are given our deepest identity. The unit will include a close examination of a number of liturgical rites to see how these principles are applied.

Liturgical Leadership in a Ministry Context

crosslisted as DL2104C/3104C

The Catholic Church invites many of her members to exercise a leadership role in the celebration of the Liturgy and Sacraments: priests, permanent deacons, school/hospital/prison chaplains, pastoral workers, youth leaders and lay funeral ministers. This unit aims at preparing and equipping the student with the understanding, skills and pastoral care necessary for leadership in the preparation and celebration of both sacraments and sacramentals. The focus will be on baptism preparation, pastoral care of the sick and dying, celebration of funerals, penitential services, Liturgy of the Word with or without communion, blessings and prayers for schools, hospitals, youth groups and prisons. Each celebration will be explored under the following areas: the meaning of each of the elements, the structure of the sacrament or sacramental, the necessary skills for appropriate pastoral care. The emphasis is on the acquisition of practical skills for ministry in a supervised context.

10.00am – 5.00pm

Census Date: Wednesday 14 July

This unit will provide an overview of the sacraments of Eucharist and Anointing of the Sick, from historical, liturgical and theological perspectives. Firstly, we will investigate the development of the Eucharistic tradition and will treat key elements of Catholic Eucharistic theology. Topics to be considered include: the Eucharist in relation to the mystery of Christ and the Church; the Eucharist in the Scriptures; and the development of the theology of the Eucharist in terms of thanksgiving, memorial, sacrifice, presence, covenant and communion. Secondly, we will outline the major historical developments in the practices and theological approaches of the sacrament of Anointing. In both cases, the sacraments are understood as means by which believers are offered and enact a deepening participation in the paschal mystery of Christ.

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

Christian initiation through baptism and confirmation is an insertion into Christ's death and resurrection as well as entry into the Church. With the help of some anthropological insights into initiation rituals, this unit will look at the scriptural foundations of these sacraments and their subsequent development. The unit will also consider the theological reflection these developments occasioned, particularly the major theological issues of rebaptism, infant baptism, and the purpose of an independent rite of confirmation, as well as contemporary pastoral questions such as the initiation of adults, discerning the readiness of families for infant baptism, and adaptations to the cultures among which the students will be living and working. Having examined how baptism forgives all prior sins, the unit will then investigate the ways the Church deals with sins committed by those who have already imitated Christ's death in baptism. The unit will reflect theologically upon the various ways that, throughout its history and across the cultures, the Church has administered the forgiveness won by Christ and conclude by addressing the pastoral questions posed by the revised rites and contemporary situations.

In the life of the Church these two sacraments are called “sacraments of service.” The unit will study the scriptural foundations of the Sacraments of Marriage and Holy Orders and their subsequent theologies as they emerged in the history of the Catholic Church. Attention will be given to the Scholastic period and the Reformation and the Catholic response formulated in the Council of Trent. A contemporary theology of the Sacraments of Marriage and Holy Orders will be developed through a study of the teaching of the Second Vatican Council and the magisterium of recent popes. A particular focus of the unit will be the nature of the relationship between these sacraments and the life and vocation of the Catholic Church as a whole.

Jesus Christ: Revealer of the Triune God A

This unit will deal with aspects of the person and work of Jesus Christ. Particular attention will be given to the question of Jesus as the question about the meaning of life; the search for the historical Jesus, and the New Testament origins of Christology. A systematic approach to the question of the self-understanding of Jesus, God and man, will also be developed. Seminar work will canvas key aspects of the theology of the Trinity.

This unit elaborates an understanding of the origin, existence and destiny of the human person, according to the scriptural, patristic, philosophical, and theological perspectives of the Christian tradition. Within the Christological hermeneutic of the Second Vatican Council's Gaudium et spes, classes will explore the biblical understanding of humanity's creation in the image of God, and recreation in the communion of the Trinity through the paschal mystery of Christ. This will include an outline of the historical elaboration of the language and meaning of grace and sin in the context of God's relationship with humanity. Finally, the significance of Mary in the Catholic tradition will be examined, as one who is perceived, in the light of Christ, as an exemplar of graced human existence and destiny.

History and Theology of Marian Doctrine and Devotion

This unit will provide a systematic investigation of the scriptural and patristic origins of Marian doctrine and devotion in the Christian tradition. It will also trace the further development of this doctrine and devotion in the course of the Church's history, in all the various ways which it manifests itself: art, literature, popular piety and doctrinal and liturgical expression. Special attention will be given to contemporary Church teaching and current issues in theology. A particular focus of the unit will be a careful examination of the meaning of the major Marian doctrines as they are presented in Catholic theology.

CH1001C

A survey unit at introductory level which covers the areas of the Early Church, the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. This unit will include a study of the major movements within the church and society and how they have influenced current church practices, focusing in a special way on the developments during the first five centuries of Christianity while also considering the shaping of the Church from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance. In this context it will also consider the significant developments of theology during this period.

Origins of the Franciscan Evangelical Movement

crosslisted as DS1301C/2301C

This unit examines the development of the evangelical movement initiated by Francis and Clare of Assisi from 1226 to 1517. While concentrating upon the struggles with the First Order from the death of Francis (1226) through the Bull of Union (1517), and the beginnings of the Capuchin Reform, it will consider the internal developments in the three Franciscan Orders as they attempted to respond to the changing situation of the church and society within this same period.

This unit will cover Byzantine history commencing with Constantine's establishment of the city of Constantinople, until the fall of Constantinople in 1453. The unit will consider the evolution of Byzantium from the Roman Empire and the ambition of Justinian to revitalize the empire. It will identify and evaluate internal conflicts within Byzantium and the continuing conflict on its borders with particular focus on the implications of the growth of Islam for Byzantium. It will examine the growing estrangement between East and West including theological misinterpretations and the further mistrust brought about by the western crusades particularly the capture of Constantinople by the Fourth Crusade. It will evaluate later developments at reconciliation and the difficulties in implementing the Council of Florence. The unit will also enable students to evaluate the contribution of Byzantium to the emerging Renaissance and the continuing legacy to Orthodoxy.

The unit will briefly review the relationship between Church and State in these countries at the beginning of the 16th century. It will then follow the unfolding of religious changes in England, Wales and Ireland: schism under Henry VIII; the influences of Continental Reformers during the reign of Edward VI; the restoration of Catholicism under Mary I and finally the Elizabeth Settlement. The special case of Scotland and its relationship with the Reform Movement in Geneva and France will be treated. Some attention will also be devoted to the continuing Catholic community, the 'Recusants'.

The Papacy in the Modern World 1565-1958

This unit will trace the changing nature of the papacy throughout the period 1565-1958. Attention will be focused on the main occupiers of the Roman See and the external challenges each faced. These include a fractured Christianity, the rise of the Nation State, the challenges of the Enlightenment and Revolution, the growth of Nationalism, the 'Social Question' and modern thought. Consideration will also be devoted to the papacy in its relation with various states and national and local Churches. Some attention will also be devoted to its role in missionary endeavours, ecumenism and the arts and sciences.

John Henry Newman, the Oxford Movement and the Church in the Nineteenth Century

This unit will relate John Henry Newman to his Anglican context. It will trace his role in developing the theology and spirituality of the Oxford Movement and the influence of the Movement on the Anglican Communion and beyond. Newman's later life in the Catholic Church will then be treated, especially his contribution to University education, his role in articulating the role of the laity in the Church, his attitude to contemporary issues such as evolution and Papal Infallibility, and his impact on Catholic thought and practice.

The Spirit of Trent and the Mystery of Vatican II

This unit will examine the historical context of the Second Vatican Council (1962–65). It will examine the intellectual and historical formation of Angelo Roncalli (Pope John XXIII) and his particular study of the Council of Trent which shaped in a definitive way his language and framework in calling the Second Vatican Council. In studying the speeches and writings of John XXIII, the student will come to understand the historical context of Vatican II's call for aggiornamento (updating) and Pope John's perception of an epochal shift for the Church and the world in the course of the twentieth century. An assessment of the historical importance of Vatican II will also be made.

This unit will explore the history of the Catholic Church in Australia. It will examine the foundation of the Church in Australia, and its development through its lay beginnings, Benedictine leadership, the rise of the Irish Hierarchy and the eventual ‘Australianisation’ of its clerical leadership. Among key issues studied will be the influence of sectarianism, the Church in the political environment and the influence of the religious orders in the Church’s stance regarding education. Some attention will also be given to the Anglican, Protestant and Eastern Churches as part of the overall advance of Christianity in Australia. The unit will look at the changing role of the churches and religion in Australian society and examine the significance of church architecture, relations with indigenous cultures and the impact of migration.

 Tuesday 2.00pm – 5.00pm

The Experience of Catholic Culture A CH2702C/3702C

crosslisted as DS2702C/3702C

A 14 day tour with two centres Dublin and London as pivotal points. Students will be introduced to several major authors, (such as John Henry Newman) artists (such as monastics producing medieval manuscripts), architects (of cathedrals medieval and modern) and composers (such as Byrd) who have helped shape the cultural ethos of modern Catholicism. Attention will be given to the historic context: the place and time of each, much of this in the appropriate liturgical and pastoral context. The student will thus be introduced to various historical factors which have shaped modern Catholicism.

Prerequisites: second level two units (30 points) of Church History third level four units (60 points) of Church History

Requirements: intensive mode

Assessment: second level one 4,500 word essay or equivalent project 100%

third level one 5,500 word essay or equivalent project 100%

This unit together with DC3002C Canon Law B aims to provide the students with an understanding of the role of law in the life of the Catholic Church. Emphasis will be placed on the development of the law of the Church since apostolic times and its relationship with theology. It also is an introduction to and commentary on current canonical legislation as expressed mainly in the 1983 Code of Canon Law and subsequent legislation, including local legislation. Particular attention will be paid to the basic principles of the interpretation of the law and its pastoral application in selected areas, including legislation concerning governance and relevant areas relating to the exercise of various forms of pastoral ministry.

This unit, together with DC3001C Canon Law A, aims to provide the students with an understanding of the role of law in the Catholic Church and its relationship with theology through a further examination of the 1983 Code of Canon Law and later legislation, including the 1990 Code of Canon Law of the Eastern Churches. Topics to be treated include the law, both universal and local, relating to the administration of the Sacraments, temporal goods and the teaching office of the Church. Sanctions and processes in the Church will be covered if or when required. Students will consider examples of the application of the law in practical pastoral situations.

In the light of Vatican II, this unit considers moral theology as a theological science. It provides a survey of the history of moral theology, examines the sources of moral knowledge for the Christian, and explores the interrelationships between moral theology, scripture, Christology, ecclesiology and Christian anthropology. On the basis of such understanding this unit examines moral conscience in the Catholic tradition. Other topics such as Sin, Conversion, Liturgical prayer and the concept of Discipleship are considered within the context of Christian moral life.

The context of this unit is the Catholic theological tradition and it proceeds on the basis that human sexuality concerns affectivity, the formation of a genuine relationship of love that leads to marriage, and more generally bonds of communion with others. The unit explores Catholic teaching pertaining to sexuality in general, marriage and family, other committed relationships, and education in sexuality. These themes are studied within a framework that considers human sexuality as an integral dimension of the human person.

The Virtue of Justice and Catholic Social Teaching

DT2040C/3040C

This unit probes contemporary justice issues from the perspective of Moral Theology. The unit is divided into three parts. Firstly, a theological examination of the subject of justice draws on the relevant biblical texts and the works of St Thomas Aquinas. The virtue of justice and its allied virtues are dealt with in some detail. Secondly, an introduction to Catholic Social Teaching over the last 100+ years will be presented. The unit shows that this teaching draws on the theological foundation to address specific issues. Thirdly, these issues are dealt with in class, as seminars, or as essay topics. The specific issues are topical and may include: poverty, aboriginal issues, racism, peace, social justice and liturgical prayer, property ownership, work, wages, and leisure.

Semester 1, 2015
Thursday 2.00pm – 5.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit focuses on the biblical perspective of the value of human life and healthcare, basic Christian bioethical principles, the primacy of the person and the duty of reasonable care of life and health at every stage. The moral principles relevant to the identity of Catholic hospitals are discussed, including formal and material cooperation with others performing unethical activities in facilities leased from Catholic institutions. Topics covered include abortion, euthanasia, the withholding of treatment, HIV/AIDS, rape, the anencephalic fetus, transplants of donated organs, human research, the allocation of scarce resources, triage and other issues raised by the environment, and modern medical terminology: prenatal diagnosis, treatments for infertility, reproductive technology and embryonic stem cell research.

The aim of this unit is to lead the students to an understanding of the importance of the liturgy in the life of the Church and of every Christian. The unit will begin by exploring the historical development of the liturgy. This will be followed by a study of Sacrosanctum Concilium, and on how this document was implemented in the life of the Church over the last 50 years. This will be done through the exploration of all the essential elements of the liturgy: the theology of liturgy; the role of ministers and of the assembly; the role and meaning of symbols; the Liturgy of the Hours; the criteria for liturgical preparation; the role of music; the celebration of liturgy with children; liturgical gestures and movements; liturgical space and the language of the liturgy.

The Art of Preaching

This unit is restricted to Ordination to the Priesthood and Permanent Diaconate candidates

This unit is a practical unit in a supervised ministry context. It will treat the history, theology and hermeneutics of Christian preaching in order to introduce the student more thoroughly to its practice. The content of the unit focuses especially on developing further the skills of preparing and preaching a homily. This will involve consideration of the various modes of preaching available to the preacher, the Second Vatican Council's call for a renewal of preaching within the Catholic Church, the function of preaching within the liturgy, and the challenge of preaching in contemporary Australian culture. The student will be asked to practice exegetical skills by working with lectionary readings for the preparation and delivery of a homily in a ministry context. The preparation and delivery will be regularly evaluated.

Liturgical Leadership in a Ministry Context

crosslisted as CT2104C/3104C

The Catholic Church invites many of her members to exercise a leadership role in the celebration of the Liturgy and Sacraments: priests, permanent deacons, school/hospital/prison chaplains, pastoral workers, youth leaders and lay funeral ministers. This unit aims at preparing and equipping the student with the understanding, skills and pastoral care necessary for leadership in the preparation and celebration of both sacraments and sacramentals. The focus will be on baptism preparation, pastoral care of the sick and dying, celebration of funerals, penitential services, Liturgy of the Word with or without communion, blessings and prayers for schools, hospitals, youth groups and prisons. Each celebration will be explored under the following areas: the meaning of each of the elements, the structure of the sacrament or sacramental, the necessary skills for appropriate pastoral care. The emphasis is on the acquisition of practical skills for ministry in a supervised context.

This unit will provide those engaged in or embarking upon pastoral ministry with an understanding of the integration of appropriate music into the liturgical rites of the Catholic Church, namely, the Eucharist, the Rites of Christian Initiation and Healing, the Rite of Marriage, the Order of Christian Funerals and the Divine Office (Morning and Evening Prayer). Liturgical principles for integrating music will be drawn from the documents on liturgy and music of the Second Vatican Council and subsequent magisterial and scholarly statements. Students will be exposed to liturgical music from various historical periods and in a range of styles that apply to liturgical ministries such as the assembly, presiding ministers, choirs and cantors. Official chant sources in Latin and English will be explored in addition to relevant collections of liturgical music from Catholic and ecumenical sources. The distinctive structures of each liturgical rite will be analysed and the criteria to assess the relative worth of liturgical music selections will be developed according to sound liturgical, musical and pastoral values.

Pastoral Studies I: A Theory of Pastoral Practice

This unit will present three theoretical frameworks within which to consider pastoral practice in its day to day experience: psychological, anthropological and theological. The psychological framework focuses upon human development, motivation, and the influence of the unconscious. The anthropological (philosophical) frame of reference assists students to understand ways of knowing and responding, with particular reference to imagination, freedom and growth. Theological reflection draws on the sources of personal presuppositions and action, culture and faith tradition. The aim of the unit is for students to explore notions of the self, articulate the assumptions upon which they engage in pastoral ministry and to encourage them to take responsibility for their pastoral practice.

Prerequisites: BS1001C, BS1002C, CT1000C and CT1001C or equivalent, are recommended, some pastoral experience would be advantageous to the student

Pastoral Studies II: Pastoral Care and Spiritual Leadership DP1002C/2002C

This unit will enable pastoral practitioners to develop a coherent framework for pastoral interaction, care and leadership in a variety of settings. Contemporary pastoral applications and professional intervention issues will be dealt with: the individual in relationship to their environment; ethics and professional boundaries; family systems and group dynamics; grief and bereavement; spiritual direction, and listening and referral skills. The Spiritual Leadership component of this unit will consider the theoretical and theological bases of leadership. The focus will be the spirituality and principles of transformation. Time will be given to the explanation of the personal qualities of a Christian leader in areas relevant to the ministry interests of students.

Teaching Catholic Faith in a Ministry Context

This is a practical unit in a supervised ministry context. This unit focuses on developing skills in teaching the Catholic faith in a variety of ministry situations including programs supporting the New Evangelisation, sacramental preparation programs in parishes, adult education programs and Religious Education classes. Students will observe and reflect on the content and practice of such education programs in a variety of ministry situations, including parishes, and then develop and enact a plan to teach children, young people or adults in areas of Catholic faith and practice. The students will have the opportunity to work co-operatively with those already engaged in such faith ministry practice and with leaders in parish education programs.

Theological and Pedagogical Foundations of Religious Education

DR1000C/2000C

This unit focuses on the theological and professional principles underlying both the nature and process of religious education, emphasising the rationale, content, context, and methodologies of the discipline. Through a process of lectures, personal reading and reflection, students are invited to examine and critique the social, cultural and theological presuppositions underlying their understanding and personal experience of religious education, in order to plan a specific project of work in line with his/her educative and pastoral activity.

Personal Development and Faith: The Praxis of Person-Centred Religious Education DR1001C/2001C

Drawing on the theoretical underpinning of the research on human psychology and the theological understanding of Christian faith, this unit investigates the relationship between personal development and faith, understood as an ongoing journey of growth in one's relationship with God within the religious and psychological context of various stages of human maturation and personal life experiences. Starting with a reflection on the nature of person, faith, human development and education, and their mutual interrelationship, the unit focuses on James Fowler's theory of faith development, and applies some of the insights to specific stages of growth, with particular emphasis on adolescents and midlife, identifying the pastoral needs and ministerial challenges these phases present for all those involved in the journey of faith education and human development.

Origins of the Franciscan Evangelical Movement

crosslisted as CH1301C/2301C

This unit examines the development of the evangelical movement initiated by Francis and Clare of Assisi from 1226 to 1517. While concentrating upon the struggles with the First Order from the death of Francis (1226) through the Bull of Union (1517), and the beginnings of the Capuchin Reform, it will consider the internal developments in the three Franciscan Orders as they attempted to respond to the changing situation of the church and society within this same period.

This unit explores developments in mystical piety in the Middle Ages. The unit will pay particular attention to the Rhineland Mystics. It will also consider the religious response to urbanization as expressed by the Beguine Movement and the emergence of mendicant friars. The development of particularly feminine responses of women to mysticism and relationship of women mystics to the wider church will also be examined. A seminar based unit, it emphasises the reading of texts and the interpretative process involved in a receptive and critical reading of Medieval sources. It also explores some contemporary approaches to the interpretation of Medieval women's spiritual experience in a social and cultural context. Students will be required to read and to analyse primary sources from medieval writers including: Hildegard of Bingen; Mechthild of Magdeburg; Marguerite de Porette, Gertrude the Great, Meister Eckhardt, Francis and Clare, Bonaventure, Catherine of Siena, Angela of Foligno.

Non-Degree Unit

Administration of the Sacrament of Penance and Moral Guidance

NM401

This unit is a practicum to prepare future confessors for sacramental service in the Catholic Church. It is restricted to Catholic deacons who are candidates for the Priesthood. The unit examines the official decrees and teaching on the administration of the Sacrament of Penance. The unit begins with a restatement of the Christological and Ecclesiological dimensions of Penance. It then proceeds to deal with the pastoral care of the penitent and the duties and rights of both penitent and confessor. As this unit is a practicum, various guest speakers deal with subjects such as psychology and reconciliation, the liturgy of reconciliation, the canonical requirements, and medical and family issues.

Prerequisites: units in Moral Theology and Canon Law

Requirements: 3 hours per week

Assessment: one 30 minute formal oral examination
This unit is assessed as a pass/fail grade only

Supervised Reading Unit (SRU)

Students can undertake personalised study within a discipline.

Supervised Reading Unit Outline Form

The student, supervisor, and Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) should work together to complete this form. Once approved, this outline must be approved by the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) and potentially by an Approver, an academic with expertise in the discipline of the SRU.

This SRU outline must be completed and approved by the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) and the approver by the end of week five of semester.

Prerequisites: two level-two units, in the same discipline
e.g. Church History requires two units of Church History at Level Two

Requirements: Students are required to attend regular sessions/seminars with their supervisor, during which they will be guided in their personal research on a topic approved by the supervisor and by the relevant Chair of Examiners

Assessment: equivalent to 6,000 words 100%

Semester 2, 2015
Monday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit is designed to enable students with a background in Biblical Hebrew to advance their Hebrew skills through the guided reading of selected Hebrew texts. Passages will be chosen from both prose (Standard Biblical Hebrew) and poetic texts including archaic Hebrew texts, with a majority taken from the poetic texts. Attention will be given to a morphological and syntactical explanation of the texts as well as text critical matters. Building on previous study, students will revise and deepen their knowledge of the morphology and syntax of Biblical Hebrew. They will approach the texts in a more critical manner, looking to “true variants” and their implication for the text tradition.

This unit (and its complement AL9202C New Testament Greek B) introduces the basic grammar and vocabulary of koine Greek, and develops the skills of giving an English equivalent of the Greek New Testament. The teaching of this unit (and its complement) follows the approach, chapter by chapter of Jeremy Duff, The Elements of New Testament Greek, 3rd ed. (Cambridge: CUP, 2005). The textbook will be supplemented with readings of increasing complexity directly from the New Testament, in particular from Mark and John. Students will be engaged in written exercises, translations of NT texts, reading and vocabulary practice and weekly tests. Additional projects engaging inscriptions and papyri for individual pursuit of application of skills with NT Greek will be provided.

This unit builds upon the foundational vocabulary and grammar studied in AL9201C New Testament Greek A, completing the chapters of the prescribed text Jeremy Duff, The Elements of New Testament Greek, 3rd ed. (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2005). This is supplemented by Max Zerwick, Biblical Greek: Illustrated by Examples, Scripta Pontificii Instituti Biblici 114 (Rome: Pontifical Biblical Institute, 1963). The grammar will be supplemented with readings of increasing complexity directly from the New Testament, in particular from Mark and John. Students will be engaged in written exercises, translations of NT texts, reading and vocabulary practice and weekly tests. Additional projects engaging inscriptions and papyri for individual pursuit of application of skills with NT Greek will be provided.

Thursday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit (and its complement AL9302C Introductory Ecclesiastical Latin B) introduces the basic grammar and vocabulary of ecclesiastical Latin, and develops the skills of translating ecclesiastical Latin into English. The course will proceed with a general introduction to ecclesiastical Latin, and an explanation of the pedagogical technique used in class. Thereafter the core mode of instruction will be working through units 1-19 of John F. Collins, A Primer of Ecclesiastical Latin (Washington: Catholic University of America Press, 1985). Students are strongly advised to have a copy of Collin's primer in class. Classes will be a mixture of lectures presenting new material, and tutorials to drill material, revise previous material, practice translating, and discuss difficulties. Some time will also be reserved for in-class tests. Students taking the level at postgraduate level are expected to develop a level of fluency and competence beyond that expected of undergraduate students; for example, postgraduate level students are expected to develop a working active knowledge of the Ecclesiastical Latin (i.e. to put English into Latin), in addition to the primarily-passive reading skills that are the focus of the undergraduate curriculum.

Prerequisites: none

Requirements: 3 hours per week

Assessment:	regular exercises for homework (equivalent to 1,000 words)	20%
	two 750 word in-class examinations	2 x 15%
	one 2 hour written examination	50%

Semester 1, 2015
Thursday 2.00pm – 5.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit (and its complement AL9301C Introductory Ecclesiastical Latin A) introduces the basic grammar and vocabulary of ecclesiastical Latin, and develops the skills of translating ecclesiastical Latin into English. The course will proceed with a general introduction to ecclesiastical Latin, and an explanation of the pedagogical technique used in class. Thereafter the core mode of instruction will be continuing on from the point reached in AL9301C. Typically this means from around unit 19 of John F. Collins, A Primer of Ecclesiastical Latin (Washington: Catholic University of America Press, 1985). Students are strongly advised to have a copy of Collin's primer in class. Classes will be a mixture of lectures presenting new material, and tutorials to drill material, and in-class tests. Students taking the level at postgraduate level are expected to develop a level of fluency and competence beyond that expected of undergraduate students; for example, postgraduate level students are expected to develop a working active knowledge of the Ecclesiastical Latin (i.e. to put English into Latin), in addition to the primarily-passive reading skills that are the focus of the undergraduate curriculum. They will undertake a translation project during the semester of translating a piece of Ecclesiastical Latin prose into English, with comments on those nuances of the Latin that are problematic or force difficult choices on a translator.

An Introduction to Philosophy for Theology AP8000C

Foundational Unit

The unit provides an overview of some major concepts and thinkers in the western philosophical tradition that are relevant for the study of theology. It is suitable both as a preparation for theological studies and also as an introduction for students wishing to pursue further philosophical studies. Thinkers studied may include: Plato, Aristotle, Anselm, Aquinas, Descartes, Locke, Hume, Kant, Nietzsche and Heidegger. Themes studied may include arguments for the existence of God, the classical attributes of God, consideration of the problem of evil, the nature of religious language, the human person, ethics and the nature of the Good, natural law and political philosophy.

Philosophy of the Human Person and Society AP8002C

Foundational Unit

This unit is devoted to the systematic examination of the basic presuppositions, concepts and theoretical frameworks that have shaped the Western philosophical understanding of the human person as individual and social. The topics covered in this unit include nature, agency and subjectivity, bodiliness, sexual difference, the personal capacity for transcendence; the basis, purpose and structure of the state's authority; liberalism and distributive justice. A number of contemporary approaches to the understanding of human nature will be discussed in relation to the human person as a moral and social subject.

Know Thyself: Introduction to Greek Philosophy

AP8100C

Foundational Unit

This unit is an introduction to Greek philosophical thought. The Greek tradition is the foundation of all other Western philosophy and its history has profoundly influenced Christian thought and practice. Authors and schools of thought to be studied include pre-Socratics, Socrates, Plato, Aristotle, Stoics, and Epicureans. Students will be introduced to the historical period, and to topics such as nature, being, life and death, soul, freedom, immortality, the state, art, and God.

What is the good? Why should we act according to it? How do we determine what is ethically good? This unit introduces students to the foundations of ethics by a critical study of the major approaches to ethics in the Western philosophical tradition – including Socratic ethics, virtue ethics, deontology and utilitarianism. It studies natural law theory in greater detail, and highlights the diversity among classical theories of natural law, by comparing thinkers such as Albert the Great, Thomas Aquinas, John Duns Scotus, William of Ockham, Francisco Suarez and Gabriel Vazquez. By drawing on key texts from both ancient and contemporary thinkers, the unit examines basic ethical concepts such as virtue, conscience, moral responsibility, moral norms, and the common good. It provides a solid grounding for advanced studies in ethics and moral theology.

Philosophers of the middle ages investigated such ‘modern’ concerns as cosmology and freedom, the question of being, scepticism about truth and immortality, the nature of happiness and ‘the good life’, love and hate, political authority, beauty, faith and reason. This unit explores texts from the fourth to the fourteenth century that address such concerns. It considers the historical milieu, philosophical thought and selected texts of authors that may include Augustine, Boethius, Erigena, Avicenna, Anselm, Abelard, Peter Lombard, Hildegard, Phillip the Chancellor, Albert, Bonaventure, Aquinas, Siger of Brabant, Roger Bacon, Matthew of Aquasparta, Eckhart, Scotus, and Ockham.

AP9121C

This unit explores the thought of the medieval philosopher and theologian Thomas Aquinas (1225–74), with a focus on his ethics and his metaphysics. It is suitable as an introduction both to medieval philosophy and to the main elements of Thomistic thought. The unit examines selected themes in Aquinas in their medieval context, in the context of Aquinas' own thought, and in the context of the later history of Thomism. The unit introduces some key Thomistic doctrines and the fundamental concepts of Thomistic philosophy, in addition to 'patterns of thought' that are distinctively Thomistic. Topics covered may include: metaphysics and the real distinction of being and esse, virtue theory, natural law, cosmology and the perfection of the universe, the human soul and immortality.

“Good Teacher, What Must I Do to Inherit Eternal Life?” Medieval Theories of Beatitude

AP9122C

In his Will there be Free Will in Heaven? Simon Gaine makes a ground-breaking philosophical analysis of eschatological issues as treated by medieval philosophers, which he uses to address contemporary concerns. This unit will use Gaine’s texts to interrogate medieval thinkers’ theories of the beatific vision. In particular it will examine the theories of Thomas Aquinas and John Duns Scotus, which are diametrically opposed on major points. The unit will consider each thinker’s view of the kind of freedom that is possible in heaven, where we will be without sin and without even the ability to sin. In order to provide a complete picture of the theories of human nature in relation to the beatific vision, the unit will also explore other aspects of each thinker’s theory of beatitude: whether we could attain beatitude by our natural resources alone without grace, whether all people of necessity have a desire for beatitude, and whether people could rightly seek annihilation to escape damnation.

“In the Image of God he Created him”: Medieval Theories of Human Transcendence, Cognition, Emotions and Value

AP9123C

This unit examines medieval accounts of the soul and body, and the relationship between cognition, emotions and values in selected medieval scholastic thinkers. It investigates two strategies used by medieval thinkers to uphold the transcendent dignity of the human person and the claim that humans are made in the image of God. The first strategy (exemplified by Albert the Great and Aquinas) was to argue for the immateriality and immortality of the soul on the basis of the powers of the intellect. The second strategy (exemplified by Henry of Ghent and the Franciscans) focused on the will rather than the intellect and argued that the image of God in human nature is the radical freedom of the human will – that is, the human ability to love freely. The unit will also consider the relation of debates on these topics to characterisations of thinkers as voluntarists and rationalists, and our understanding of the relation between faith and reason. Students will also be introduced to the primary working tools of contemporary research in medieval philosophy.

The Logical Underpinnings of Medieval Philosophical and Theological Texts AP9124C

This unit examines and appraises key medieval logical and semantic concepts, especially – but not exclusively – as elaborated by Aquinas and some later authors in the Thomistic tradition. The unit begins by recounting the gradual appropriation of Aristotelian logic in the medieval West, and the foundational role played by logic and semantics in the medieval and early-modern Arts curriculum in the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. It then surveys selected texts of authors such as Robert Kilwardby, Hervaeus Natalis, William of Ockham and Radulphus Brito. Topics treated may include the nature and subject of logic; the division and methods of the speculative sciences, and the application of the notion of science to metaphysics and theology; the status of sophismata, the distinctions between real being and being of reason, first and second intentions, formal and objective concepts, real and logical universals, and the equivocal, univocal and analogical predication of terms. Attention will be paid to the reciprocal manner in which enrichment of these logical and semantic notions occurred because of theorising about classic philosophico-theological issues (such as the divine attributes or God’s knowledge of future contingents), and vice versa, and the enrichment of contemporary thought that such concepts offer today.

Descartes' Meditations is one of the most significant texts in Western thought. It marks the beginning of a focus on the natural sciences as the paradigm for knowledge and certainty. It incorporates conceptualizations of God, human nature, knowledge and reality that continue to influence contemporary thought. This unit begins with a detailed critical reading of the Meditations. It then examines excerpts from major texts by other significant philosophers of the period, who may include Hobbes, Spinoza, Cudworth, More, Locke, Newton, Clarke, Hume and Kant. The unit focuses on themes such as the relation of body and soul, the question of certain knowledge and the relationship between scientific, theological and common-sense world views. In addition, attention is given to the dispute between those philosophers engaged in sceptical or atheistic attacks on religion, and those philosophers engaged with defending religion made by other early modern philosophers.

“The Whole is a Riddle, an Enigma, an Inexplicable Mystery”: David Hume’s Philosophy of Religion AP9141C

The philosophy of religion of David Hume (1711-1776) is a major, though often undisclosed part of the intellectual heritage of contemporary “New Atheist” thinkers like Dawkins, Dennett and Hitchens. Hume’s psychological theory of religious belief and his sceptical critique of the traditional arguments for the existence of God present some of the most profound challenges to Christian belief. In particular, his psychological account of the origin and nature of religious belief as propensity for projection of entities (e.g. God/s) has been influential in the fields of philosophy, sociology and psychology of religion. This unit explores Hume’s major work on the origin of religious belief, The Natural History of Religion, and his major criticism of the arguments for the existence of God found in The Dialogues concerning Natural Religion. The unit will examine these, plus other related texts (e.g. On Miracles, On Superstition and Enthusiasm, and A Treatise of Human Nature) to analyse the strands of Hume’s philosophy of religion, evaluating its coherence, presuppositions, strengths and weaknesses.

Twentieth-Century Philosophy: Existentialism, Phenomenology, and Hermeneutics

AP9160C

Thought about God has re-emerged as a fundamental interest for contemporary continental philosophy. Is it possible to think about God at all? If so, in what way? This unit examines developments in twentieth-century continental philosophy that establish the framework for contemporary thought about metaphysics, God and faith. Particular attention will be given to major texts covering nihilism, existentialism, phenomenology, hermeneutics, and postmodern thought.

Friedrich Nietzsche called the foundations of the western intellectual tradition into question. Throughout the twentieth century, philosophers have built on Nietzsche's discrediting of metaphysical thought, and sought new ways of thinking about truth and reality by engaging with cultural discourses such as aesthetics, politics, and ethics. In figures such as Paul Ricoeur, Emmanuel Levinas, and Jean-Luc Marion, this has opened the way to new possibilities for exploring transcendence and thought about God in the twenty-first century. This unit examines areas that may include the foundations of the postmodern in Nietzsche, Lyotard, Foucault, and Deleuze; the reworking of the metaphysical tradition by the hermeneutics and aesthetics of Gadamer and Merleau-Ponty; the deconstructive strategies of Heidegger and Derrida; and the much-debated contemporary 'theological turn' in French phenomenology.

“In modern Western societies, the obstacles to belief are moral and spiritual, rather than epistemological” (Charles Taylor). For almost two thousand years Western culture has spoken of God in Christian terms. The question confronting Christian (and other) thinkers at the beginning of the 21st century is whether this grand narrative is now exhausted. For many, this would seem to be an accomplished fact; Christianity may be appreciated for having provided a framework for modern society, but since the Enlightenment it is now taken for granted that the values informing the West can be accepted and justified without the support traditionally provided by Christianity. This unit locates a trajectory in the critique of Christianity begun by Friedrich Nietzsche (+1900), pursuing it through the responses of the German phenomenologist Max Scheler (+1928), and, especially, in our own time, the French philosophical anthropologist and literary critic, René Girard.

The first part of the unit will be devoted to an examination of Nietzsche’s Genealogy of Morality, paying special attention to his formulations of resentment, the masked desire for revenge, and the role played by violence and scapegoating. The second part of the unit will consist of a reading of Scheler’s essay, Ressentiment. Although Scheler exposes a number of weaknesses in Nietzsche’s genealogy, he nevertheless does not succeed in overcoming Nietzsche. The unit will end by considering the positions of the Canadian philosopher Charles Taylor, the Italian philosopher Gianni Vattimo, ‘religion without religion’ as advocated by Marcel Gauchet, and the alternative vision of John Milbank. A number of topical issues pertaining to Australian identity will be assessed in the light of Girard’s theory.

Resilient Transcendence: Modern Philosophical Disputes on Human Nature

AP9163C

Religious thought depends on a transcendent account of human nature, which has been challenged repeatedly by materialists and naturalists, in the context of successive theories of physics. This unit examines key debates between transcendent and reductionist accounts of the human person in the 17th-19th centuries, highlighting the resilience of transcendent accounts. It includes Descartes' arguments for an immaterial soul, Locke and 'thinking matter', Ralph Cudworth's coinage of 'consciousness' (1678), the Newtonian theologian Samuel Clarke's correspondence with the free-thinker Anthony Collins (1706-1717), the materialism of Joseph Priestley, the anti-materialist philosophies of mind of the Jesuit physicist Roger Boscovich (1757) and the Evangelical Christians Maxwell and Faraday, the dispute between philosophical idealist T. H. Green and the positivist and naturalist G. H. Lewes (1878-1885), and the philosophy of mind in C. D. Broad's The Mind and its Place in Nature (1925). Students will also be introduced to the primary working tools of contemporary research in early modern and 19th century philosophy.

This unit explains the differences between the Hellenic philosophical concepts of God (e.g. Plato, Aristotle) and the classical Christian position. It then examines classical proofs for the existence of God in the history of western philosophy, and provides an analysis of various divine attributes such as eternity, simplicity, omnipotence and omniscience. It also introduces students to philosophical accounts of our use of language to describe God, and also to various ‘problems of evil’ and examines how the existence of evil can be reconciled with an omnipotent, all-good God.

This unit explores the fundamental philosophical questions which inform the whole of reality such as: What is real, and what is merely appearance? What is the relation between being and becoming? What are universals? What is the relationship of essence and existence? How can something change and yet remain itself? What is the relation between freedom and determinism? It will provide a solid introduction to the positions of key ancient and medieval metaphysicians in the western philosophical tradition, and canonical metaphysicians in the early modern and finally, contemporary periods. It will also introduce some more recent attempts to reconceptualise traditional metaphysical categories, as well as some selected contemporary critiques of traditional metaphysics.

As an introduction to the world and literature of the Bible, this unit offers an overview of the cultural, historical, literary, social and religious contexts of the literature of the Old and New Testaments. The student will be introduced to topics such as the history of Israel, religion, cult and Temple, the Torah, and the Jewish and Greco-Roman worlds of the New Testament. Specialized topics of inspiration and canonicity in scripture will also be considered. The unit will examine the thematic and theological links between the Old and New Testaments through study of the prophetic movement and the wisdom literature. Topics will be illustrated with reference to specific texts in both testaments.

BS8002C

Foundational Unit

This unit is complementary to the unit BS8001C The Biblical World: Texts and Traditions. In introducing the Bible as literature, the focus of this unit is the practical application of synchronic and diachronic methods for the exegesis of scriptural texts. The student will be engaged both in the process of selection of suitable exegetical methods and in applying the methods to texts from the Old and New Testaments. Emphasis will be on the text and its interpretation with the aid of lexicons, dictionaries and commentaries.

This unit will examine the literary forms, traditions (oral and written), narratives, and theologies of the Pentateuch or Torah. In particular the unit will consider the Creation narratives in Genesis 1–11, the Joseph narratives in Genesis, Law in Deuteronomy, and the Holiness Code in Leviticus. Key passages will be selected to illustrate themes and structure. Attention will also be given to the possible thematic unity and narrative integrity of the Pentateuch through the study of the theory of sources. Specialist topics such as Covenant will also be examined in the literature.

Semester 2, 2015
Monday 6.00pm – 9.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit is based on an examination of the ‘Former Prophets’ or ‘Historical Books’ (Joshua – 2 Kings) as a key representative of historiography in the Old Testament. It will involve a consideration of the hypothesis of a Deuteronomistic History, identified in Deuteronomy – 2 Kings. The other key representative of Old Testament historiography (1 and 2 Chronicles) will also be examined, especially where it parallels texts in the Former Prophets. The unit will consider Israelite and Ancient Near Eastern notions of history and examine contemporary issues, problems and methods associated with the interpretation of such literature.

This unit will explore the charismatic phenomenon of prophecy in Israel: its spirit, forms, characteristic features, historical and religious context, message, and relation to Ancient Near East prophecy. The message of each prophet will be situated within its particular social, religious and political context. The unit will move from a general discussion of prophecy in Israel to examination of particular passages from minor and major prophets, to illustrate the movement and its concerns. The key theme of the unit will be the genius of the prophetic movement in Israel and its relation to the enduring values of Israelite religion. Texts to be considered include selections from Hosea, Amos, Isaiah, Jeremiah and Ezekiel.

Tuesday 2.00pm – 5.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

The Prophecy of Jeremiah in its final form is a complex literary work of some 52 chapters, with significant differences between the two principal witnesses to the text (the masoretic and septuagint versions). This unit will offer a general overview of the Book of Jeremiah with particular emphasis on the call narrative, the oracles in chapters 1–6, the Temple sermon in chapters 7 and 26, the confessions of Jeremiah, and the narrative of the fall of Jerusalem in chapters 37–44, 52. The unit will also consider some of the specialised issues of prophecy in the Book of Jeremiah: true and false prophecy, prophetic signs, the prophet as intercessor, prophetic charisma. The aim is a general understanding of the book's structure and themes, and a more focused knowledge of significant texts.

Ezekiel was a prophet of the Exile. His intended audience was not only the exilic community in Babylon but also the remnant community in Jerusalem after 597. His prophetic language is highly imaginative and visual. The Book of Ezekiel shows great interest in the cult, ritual and the priesthood of the Jerusalem Temple. The Book contains three great visions in narrative form: the call of the prophet in chapters 1–3, the departure of the divine presence from the doomed temple in Jerusalem in chapters 8–11, and the vision of the new sanctuary of God in the prolonged narrative of chapters 40–48. This unit will examine these three great visions in the Book in some detail. The visions offer a sustained and unique insight into Ezekiel's understanding of God, both in terms of divine presence and absence, and how God is to be worshipped in the new circumstance of exile. The visions offer new hope for a different future.

The unit will consist of an examination of the major issues associated with contemporary study of the Book of Isaiah, namely how much can be known about the prophet Isaiah and his preaching, the hypothesis of three major editions of the book (chs. 1–39; 40–55 and 56–66) stemming from different periods in Israelite tradition, and the impact this has on one's reading of the book and its theology. The unit will also involve exegesis of selected texts in the book.

BA9500C

This unit will examine how the Old Testament portrays God as just, righteous, and merciful, and the criteria whereby Israel is called to be a just, righteous, and merciful society. It will consist of an analysis of justice, righteousness, and mercy and associated terminology within their literary, historical and theological contexts. It will consider how these terms and the contexts in which they occur contribute to Theodicy—the notion of God as just.

Thursday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit is designed to enable students with a background in Biblical Hebrew to advance their Hebrew skills through the guided reading of selected Hebrew texts. Passages will be chosen from both prose (Standard Biblical Hebrew) and poetic texts including archaic Hebrew texts, with a majority taken from the poetic texts. Attention will be given to a morphological and syntactical explanation of the texts as well as text critical matters. Building on previous study, students will revise and deepen their knowledge of the morphology and syntax of Biblical Hebrew. They will approach the texts in a more critical manner, looking to “true variants” and their implication for the text tradition.

This unit is one of two complementary units, one focussing upon the Old Testament (BA9701C) and the other focussing on the New Testament (BN9701C), that relate to the Study Tour of the Biblical Lands. Students may undertake both the Old and New Testament units in conjunction with this Tour or just one of the units at the appropriate level for their study.

This unit engages students with the archaeological, geographical, historical, sociological and theological context of the Old Testament. Emphasis will be on reading and interpreting the texts in places associated with their content and history. Special attention will be given to understanding and interpreting the text in light of all the data available in the sites and museums in dialogue with classical and contemporary biblical scholarship.

Unit undertaken for credit will be completed in Semester 1 2017 and charged at 2017 rates.

Jesus Suffering and Ours: The Gospel Stories of Jesus' Passion, Death and Resurrection

BN9100C

This unit studies the four Gospel accounts of Jesus' suffering, death and resurrection. A close exegetical study of these stories, climactic to each of the Gospels, and an appreciation of the literary power of the narratives, will reveal the theological meaning intended by the evangelists as they sought to offer an understanding for their first century CE audiences about the most important human event - death. The unit will also explore the contemporary implications of these narratives for our own experience of suffering and death and our hoped for resurrection.

Prerequisites: BS8001C and BS8002C or equivalent

Requirements: Intensive mode: 10.00am – 5.00pm

Assessment:	two 500 word reflection papers	2 x 7.5%
	one 2,000 word exegesis	35%

This unit engages the origins and genre of the Gospel of Mark and its relationship to the other synoptic gospels. Investigative research will be encouraged with regard to the orality and context of the Gospel according to Mark as well as the history of its interpretation. Primarily the unit focuses on the close reading of the text in the order of the narrative and detailed exegesis of selected texts. The methodology will mainly engage historical critical and narrative critical perspectives and encourage discussion of scholarly debates. The theology of the evangelist will be explored and discussed in close relation to the text.

Tuesday 6.00pm – 9.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This unit examines Luke-Acts as two volumes of a single narrative. In the process of engaging these texts students will engage the arguments of scholars regarding the unity of the text and its historiographical form. The investigation of the text will explore the unusually close connection between narrative and theology in Luke. Detailed exegesis combined with theological reflection of key passages of both Luke and Acts will be modelled to develop competence in methodologies and conventions of advanced biblical research.

This unit investigates the background, literary character and theology of the fourth Gospel as a whole. After a presentation of the literary structure and theology of the Gospel of John, selected major passages will be read in detail, modelling and practicing competence in interpretation methodologies and advanced biblical research. Particular detail will be devoted to those Johannine passages that play a key role in the lectionaries of the various Christian Churches. Students will engage both classical and contemporary interpretation of the fourth Gospel.

This unit explores Paul and his letters in the unfolding drama of nascent Christianity, investigating the issues of the first communities as they struggled with the question of their identity particularly in relation to Judaism. The Book of Acts and extra-biblical texts and sources will be engaged to elucidate Paul, his theology and methodology. This unit prepares and develops opportunities for rigorous research of the Pauline model particularly with regard to informing present day issues of identity, leadership formation and evangelization.

This unit will investigate the background, structure, message, context and theology of the Letter to the Romans. The major focus will be given to the articulation of Paul's argument across Romans 1-15 with particular attention to Paul's Christology and ecclesiology, and the relationship between Pauline Christianity and Judaism. Both classical and contemporary interpretation of the letter will be engaged. Detailed study of the text will incorporate the identification of themes of justification, law, and Jewish-Gentile relations.

This unit is one of two complementary units, one focussing upon the Old Testament (BA9701C) and the other focussing on the New Testament (BN9701C), that relate to the Study Tour of the Biblical Lands. Students may undertake both the Old and New Testament units in conjunction with this Tour or just one of the units at the appropriate level for their study.

This unit engages students with the archaeological, geographical, historical, sociological and theological context of the New Testament. Emphasis will be on reading and interpreting the texts in places associated with their content and history. Special attention will be given to understanding and interpreting the text in light of all the data available in the sites and museums in dialogue with classical and contemporary biblical scholarship.

Unit undertaken for credit will be completed in Semester 1 2017 and charged at 2017 rates.

The Liturgy and the Sacraments of the Catholic Church

CT8610C

*Foundational Unit
crosslisted as DL8610C*

The ecclesial community gathers to give praise and thanks to God through liturgical and sacramental celebrations. The unit will cover the role and meaning of liturgical celebrations. Students will then be introduced to the study of sacraments and sacramentality through an exploration of the notions of 'ritual,' 'symbol,' 'presence' and 'encounter.' It introduces the notions of Christ as primordial sacrament and the Church as sacrament of Christ in the world. It explores each of the seven sacraments and several sacramentals from anthropological, biblical, historical and contemporary liturgical perspectives.

The liturgical assembly is more than just a gathering of worshippers; rather, it is the place where we discover and express our relationship to God through the Son in the Holy Spirit and thus achieve our true identity. As such, it is not simply something that we can describe or critique from what we have learnt in other branches of theology but it is a theological source in itself, and thus in this context also we can apply the old maxim lex orandi, lex credendi.

This unit will explore, by considering the nature of human symbolic activity and examining some of the Catholic Church's rites, how liturgical theology is an independent theological discipline with its own special methodology and subject - the liturgical tradition of the Church - distinct from other theological disciplines. In this context, it will examine how the specifically sacramental rites of the Church initiate, modify or perfect us as participants in Christ's worship of the Father through the working of the Holy Spirit, so that the sacraments are seen as gifts from God by which we are given our deepest identity. The unit will include a close examination of a number of liturgical rites to see how these principles are applied.

This unit will provide an overview of the sacraments of Eucharist and Anointing of the Sick, from historical, liturgical and theological perspectives. Firstly, we will investigate the development of the Eucharistic tradition and will treat key elements of Catholic Eucharistic theology. Topics to be considered include: the Eucharist in relation to the mystery of Christ and the Church; the Eucharist in the Scriptures; and the development of the theology of the Eucharist in terms of thanksgiving, memorial, sacrifice, presence, covenant and communion. Secondly, we will outline the major historical developments in the practices and theological approaches of the sacrament of Anointing. In both cases, the sacraments are understood as means by which believers are offered and enact a deepening participation in the paschal mystery of Christ.

Christian initiation through baptism and confirmation is an insertion into Christ's death and resurrection as well as entry into the Church. With the help of some anthropological insights into initiation rituals, this unit will look at the scriptural foundations of these sacraments and their subsequent development. The unit will also consider the theological reflection these developments occasioned, particularly the major theological issues of rebaptism, infant baptism, and the purpose of an independent rite of confirmation, as well as contemporary pastoral questions such as the initiation of adults, discerning the readiness of families for infant baptism, and adaptations to the cultures among which the students will be living and working. Having examined how baptism forgives all prior sins, the unit will then investigate the ways the Church deals with sins committed by those who have already imitated Christ's death in baptism. The unit will reflect theologically upon the various ways that, throughout its history and across the cultures, the Church has administered the forgiveness won by Christ and conclude by addressing the pastoral questions posed by the revised rites and contemporary situations.

In the life of the Church these two sacraments are called “sacraments of service.” The unit will study the scriptural foundations of the Sacraments of Marriage and Holy Orders and their subsequent theologies as they emerged in the history of the Catholic Church. Attention will be given to the Scholastic period and the Reformation and the Catholic response formulated in the Council of Trent. A contemporary theology of the Sacraments of Marriage and Holy Orders will be developed through a study of the teaching of the Second Vatican Council and the magisterium of recent popes. A particular focus of the unit will be the nature of the relationship between these sacraments and the life and vocation of the Catholic Church as a whole.

This unit elaborates an understanding of the origin, existence and destiny of the human person, according to the scriptural, patristic, philosophical, and theological perspectives of the Christian tradition. Within the Christological hermeneutic of the Second Vatican Council's Gaudium et spes, classes will explore the biblical understanding of humanity created in the image of God, and recreated in the communion of the Trinity through the paschal mystery of Christ. This will include an outline of the historical elaboration of the language and meaning of grace and sin in the context of God's relationship with humanity. Finally, the significance of Mary in the Catholic tradition will be examined, as one who is perceived, in the light of Christ, as an exemplar of graced human existence and destiny.

History and Theology of Marian Doctrine and Devotion

CT9230C

This unit will provide a systematic investigation of the scriptural and patristic origins of Marian doctrine and devotion in the Christian tradition. It will also trace the further development of this doctrine and devotion in the course of the Church's history, in all the various ways which it manifests itself: art, literature, popular piety and doctrinal and liturgical expression. Special attention will be given to contemporary Church teaching and current issues in theology. A particular focus of the unit will be a careful examination of the meaning of the major Marian doctrines as they are presented in Catholic theology.

The Analogy of Being in 20th Century Theology

CT9240C

In this unit students will investigate a key feature of Catholic theological method: the use of the analogy of being (analogia entis) in naming God and in speaking of the Creator-created relationship. We will begin by identifying the basic arguments of Erich Przywara's programmatic study, Analogia Entis (1932, and now in English translation 2014), within the context of Catholic theology around the turn of the twentieth century. Then, we will explore the central issues in the debate between Przywara and Karl Barth about the legitimacy of the analogia entis in theological discourse. We will examine the ways in which the fruit of this debate was taken up by thinkers such as Hans Urs von Balthasar and Eberhard Jüngel in their efforts to speak responsibly of God and God's characteristics. Finally, we will consider whether the analogia entis can contribute to contemporary debates about the interaction of grace and nature.

Sacramental and Moral Life (15 points) Geelong CT9601C(G)

Graduate Certificate in Teaching Religious Education

This unit builds on the understanding of Church developed in CT8600C Foundational Theology for Teaching Religious Education, and explores Catholic life in terms of the sacraments and moral life. These themes will be considered both individually and in relationship with each other. With regard to the sacramental life of the Church, the unit will explore the fundamental principles of sacramental theology as a basis for the consideration of individual sacraments. With regard to Christian moral life, the unit will consider the Christian understanding of the human person as fundamental to Christian moral life, moral conscience and its formation, and the essential relationship of moral life to personal prayer and liturgical celebration.

Sacramental and Moral Life (15 points) Werribee CT9601C(W)

Graduate Certificate in Teaching Religious Education

This unit builds on the understanding of Church developed in CT8600C Foundational Theology for Teaching Religious Education, and explores Catholic life in terms of the sacraments and moral life. These themes will be considered both individually and in relationship with each other. With regard to the sacramental life of the Church, the unit will explore the fundamental principles of sacramental theology as a basis for the consideration of individual sacraments. With regard to Christian moral life, the unit will consider the Christian understanding of the human person as fundamental to Christian moral life, moral conscience and its formation, and the essential relationship of moral life to personal prayer and liturgical celebration.

CH8001C

Foundational Unit

A survey unit at postgraduate level which covers the areas of the Early Church, the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. This course will include a study of the major movements within the church and society and how they have influenced current church practices, focusing in a special way on the developments during the first five centuries of Christianity while also considering the shaping of the Church from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance. In this context it will also consider the significant development of theology during this period.

This unit will cover Byzantine history commencing with Constantine's establishment of the city of Constantinople, until the fall of Constantinople in 1453. The unit will consider the evolution of Byzantium from the Roman Empire and the ambition of Justinian to revitalize the empire. It will identify and evaluate internal conflicts within Byzantium and the continuing conflict on its borders with particular focus on the implications of the growth of Islam for Byzantium. It will examine the growing estrangement between East and West including theological misinterpretations and the further mistrust brought about by the western crusades particularly the capture of Constantinople by the Fourth Crusade. It will evaluate later developments at reconciliation and the difficulties in implementing the Council of Florence. The unit will also enable students to evaluate the contribution of Byzantium to the emerging Renaissance and the continuing legacy to Orthodoxy.

The unit will briefly review the relationship between Church and State in these countries at the beginning of the 16th century. It will then follow the unfolding of religious changes in England, Wales and Ireland: schism under Henry VIII; the influences of Continental Reformers during the reign of Edward VI; the restoration of Catholicism under Mary I and finally the Elizabeth Settlement. The special case of Scotland and its relationship with the Reform Movement in Geneva and France will be treated. Some attention will also be devoted to the continuing Catholic community, the 'Recusants'.

The Papacy in the Modern World 1565–1958 CH9162C

This unit will trace the changing nature of the papacy throughout the period 1565–1958. Attention will be focused on the main occupiers of the Roman See and the external challenges each faced. These include a fractured Christianity, the rise of the Nation State, the challenges of the Enlightenment and Revolution, the growth of Nationalism, the ‘Social Question’ and modern thought. Consideration will also be devoted to the papacy in its relation with various states and national and local Churches. Some attention will also be devoted to its role in missionary endeavours, ecumenism and the arts and sciences.

John Henry Newman, the Oxford Movement, and the Church in the Nineteenth Century

CH9163C

This unit will relate John Henry Newman to his Anglican context. It will trace his role in developing the theology and spirituality of the Oxford Movement and the influence of the Movement on the Anglican Communion and beyond. Newman's later life in the Catholic Church will then be treated, especially his contribution to University education, his role in articulating the role of the laity in the Church, his attitude to contemporary issues such as evolution and Papal Infallibility, and his impact on Catholic thought and practice.

The Spirit of Trent and the Mystery of Vatican II

CH9180C

This unit will examine the historical context of the Second Vatican Council (1962–65). It will examine the intellectual and historical formation of Angelo Roncalli (Pope John XXIII) and his particular study of the Council of Trent which shaped in a definitive way his language and framework in calling the Second Vatican Council. In studying the speeches and writings of John XXIII, the student will come to understand the historical context of Vatican II's call for aggiornamento (updating) and Pope John's perception of an epochal shift for the Church and the world in the course of the twentieth century. An assessment of the historical importance of Vatican II will also be made.

The Reforming Councils of Constance, Basel and Florence

CH9181C

This unit will present the work of the Councils of Constance (1414-18), Basel (1431-1449) and Florence (1438), councils that produced effects that lasted well beyond the 15th century. Constance was called to heal the disastrous papal schism caused by the dubious elections in 1378 of two popes one after the other. When Europeans became aware that the church was now divided and with no immediate prospect of uniting a divided papacy there were calls to recover unity, but how to accomplish this was not obvious. As the schism continued desire also arose to thoroughly reform the church, in head and members, especially urgent because the conditions of church and society were changing. The unit will show ideas about polity, collegiality and reform developed at Constance, Basel and Florence had echoes continuing until Second Vatican Council.

This unit will explore the history of the Catholic Church in Australia. It will examine the foundation of the Church in Australia, and its development through its Lay beginnings, Benedictine leadership, the rise of the Irish Hierarchy and the eventual ‘Australianisation’ of its clerical leadership. Among key issues studied will be the influence of sectarianism, the Church in the political environment and the influence of the religious orders in the Church’s stance regarding education. Some attention will also be given to the Anglican, Protestant and Eastern Churches as part of the overall advance of Christianity in Australia. The unit will look at the changing role of the churches and religion in Australian society and examine the significance of church architecture, relations with indigenous cultures and the impact of migration.

Origins of the Franciscan Evangelical Movement

crosslisted as DS9301C

This unit examines the development of the evangelical movement initiated by Francis and Clare of Assisi from 1226 to 1517. While concentrating upon the struggles with the First Order from the death of Francis (1226) through the Bull of Union (1517), and the beginnings of the Capuchin Reform, it will consider the internal developments in the three Franciscan Orders as they attempted to respond to the changing situation of the church and society within this same period.

A 14 day tour with two centres Dublin and London as pivotal points. Students will be introduced to several major authors (such as John Henry Newman), artists (such as monastics producing medieval manuscripts), architects (of cathedrals medieval and modern) and composers (such as Byrd) who have helped shape the cultural ethos of modern Catholicism. Attention will be given to the historical context, the place and time of each; much of this in the appropriate liturgical and pastoral context. The student will thus be introduced to various historical factors which have shaped modern Catholicism.

This unit together with DC9002C Canon Law B aims to provide students with an understanding of the role of law in the life of the Catholic Church. Emphasis will be placed on the development of the law of the Church since apostolic times and its relationship with theology. It is also an introduction to and commentary on current canonical legislation as expressed mainly in the 1983 Code of Canon Law and subsequent legislation, including local legislation. Particular attention will be paid to the basic principles of the interpretation of the law and its pastoral application in selected areas, including legislation concerning governance and relevant areas relating to the exercise of various forms of pastoral ministry.

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit, together with DC9001C Canon Law A, aims to provide the students with an understanding of the role of law in the Catholic Church and its relationship with theology through a further examination of the 1983 Code of Canon Law and later legislation, including the 1990 Code of Canon Law of the Eastern Churches. Topics to be treated include the law, both universal and local, relating to the administration of the Sacraments, temporal goods and the teaching office of the Church. Sanctions and processes in the Church will be covered if or when required. Students will consider examples of the application of the law in practical pastoral situations.

Semester 1, 2015
Thursday 6.00pm – 9.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit takes as its starting point the directive of the Second Vatican Council with regard to Moral Theology and explores moral life as an expression of the Christian's "call in Christ to bring forth fruit in charity for the life of the world." (Optatam totius 16). Within the framework of Catholic Moral theology, the unit will consider themes such as Christian identity, Christian anthropology, moral conscience and its formation, sin and conversion, and discipleship of Christ as a motif for describing Christian moral life. This latter theme will lead to consideration of the interrelationships between Christian moral life, prayer, growth in virtue and the gospel imperative to live justly. The pastoral implications of these themes provide the overarching context of this unit.

Human Ageing: Theological and Spiritual Perspectives

DT8632C

*Foundational Unit
crosslisted as DP8632C and DS8632C*

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore the ways human ageing has been understood in the Bible and throughout the history of the Christian church(es). Recent theological explorations of ageing will be an important focus of the course unit. Special emphasis will be given to Catholic theology and the ways it contributes to an understanding of human ageing. Closely related to the theological inquiry will be a consideration of the way both Christian and non-Christian spiritualities have tried to understand and live with the reality of growing old.

DT9040C

This unit probes contemporary justice issues from the perspective of Moral Theology. The unit is divided into three parts. Firstly, a theological examination of the subject of justice draws on the relevant biblical texts and the works of St Thomas Aquinas. The virtue of justice and its allied virtues are dealt with in some detail. Secondly, an introduction to Catholic Social Teaching over the last 100+ years is presented. The unit shows that this teaching draws on the theological foundation to address specific issues. Thirdly, these issues are dealt with in class, as seminars, or as essay topics. The specific issues are topical and may include: poverty, aboriginal issues, racism, peace, social justice and liturgical prayer, property ownership, work, wages, and leisure.

Semester 1, 2015
Wednesday 6.00pm – 9.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 17 March

This unit will explore the phenomenon of human ageing at personal and societal levels. In light of current person centred approaches in aged care multi-disciplinary understandings of ageing will be explored. This will provide the context for an in-depth study of pastoral care both theoretical and practical. The ways in which human ageing challenges pastoral care will be a particular focus of this study. The context for this study will be the theological, spiritual, ethical and pastoral care tradition of the Catholic church.

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore a range of ethical issues arising from the ageing of the individual person as well as that of an ageing society. Among the issues to be considered will be:

- Transitions: into retirement; downsizing; high care;
- Tensions: between health and lifestyle; living with limits, disability, and dementia; questions of identity, sexuality, and ethnicity;
- Contexts: involving family, relationships and friends; society; church;
- Meanings: experiences of life, death, grief; pain and suffering; choices about care at the end of life

The thinking of Catholic moral theology will be the basis from which an analysis of the issues will proceed.

DL8610C

*Foundational Unit
crosslisted as CT8610C*

The ecclesial community gathers to give praise and thanks to God through liturgical and sacramental celebrations. The unit will cover the role and meaning of liturgical celebrations. Students will then be introduced to the study of sacraments and sacramentality through an exploration of the notions of 'ritual,' 'symbol,' 'presence' and 'encounter.' It introduces the notions of Christ as primordial sacrament and the Church as sacrament of Christ in the world. It explores each of the seven sacraments and several sacramentals from anthropological, biblical, historical and contemporary liturgical perspectives.

August 8, 9; September 5, 6; October 10, 11
10.00am – 5.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 24 August

This unit is restricted to Ordination to the Priesthood and Permanent Diaconate candidates

This unit will treat the history, theology and hermeneutics of Christian preaching in order to introduce the student more thoroughly to its practice. This will involve consideration of the various modes of preaching available to the preacher, the Second Vatican Council's call for a renewal of preaching within the Catholic Church, the function of preaching within the liturgy, and the challenge of preaching in contemporary Australian culture.

This unit will provide those engaged in or embarking upon pastoral ministry with an understanding of the integration of appropriate music into the liturgical rites of the Catholic Church, namely, the Eucharist, the Rites of Christian Initiation and Healing, the Rite of Marriage, the Order of Christian Funerals and the Divine Office (Morning and Evening Prayer). Liturgical principles for integrating music will be drawn from the documents on liturgy and music of the Second Vatican Council and subsequent magisterial and scholarly statements. Students will be exposed to liturgical music from various historical periods and in a range of styles that apply to liturgical ministries such as the assembly, presiding ministers, choirs and cantors. Official chant sources in Latin and English will be explored in addition to relevant collections of liturgical music from Catholic and ecumenical sources. The distinctive structures of each liturgical rite will be analysed and the criteria to assess the relative worth of liturgical music selections will be developed according to sound liturgical, musical and pastoral values.

Pastoral Studies I: A Theory of Pastoral Practice DP8001C

Foundational Unit

This unit will present three theoretical frameworks within which to consider pastoral practice in its day to day experience: psychological, anthropological and theological. The psychological framework focuses upon human development, motivation, and the influence of the unconscious. The anthropological (philosophical) frame of reference assists students to understand ways of knowing and responding, with particular reference to imagination, freedom and growth. Theological reflection draws on the sources of personal presuppositions and action, culture and faith tradition. The aim of the unit is for students to explore notions of the self, articulate the assumptions upon which they engage in pastoral ministry and to encourage them to take responsibility for their pastoral practice.

Pastoral Studies II: Pastoral Care and Spiritual Leadership

DP8002C

Foundational Unit

This unit will assist pastoral practitioners to develop a coherent framework for pastoral interaction, care and leadership in a variety of settings. Contemporary pastoral applications and professional intervention issues will be dealt with: the individual in relationship to their environment; ethics and professional boundaries; family systems and group dynamics; grief and bereavement; spiritual direction, and listening and referral skills. The Spiritual Leadership component of this unit will consider the theoretical and theological bases of leadership. The focus will be the spirituality and principles of transformation. Time will be given to the explanation of the personal qualities of a Christian leader in areas relevant to the ministry interests of students.

Human Ageing: Theological and Spiritual Perspectives

DP8632C

*Foundational Unit
crosslisted as DT8632C and DS8632C*

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore the ways human ageing has been understood in the Bible and throughout the history of the Christian church(es). Recent theological explorations of ageing will be an important focus of the course unit. Special emphasis will be given to Catholic theology and the ways it contributes to an understanding of human ageing. Closely related to the theological inquiry will be a consideration of the way both Christian and non-Christian spiritualities have tried to understand and live with the reality of growing old.

Clinical Pastoral Education (CPE) is a programme of education and formation for the work of pastoral care. The programme’s methodology utilises the action/reflection model of learning. The action component entails the actual provision of pastoral care within a pastoral setting. This care acknowledges and attends to the human condition, particularly life’s religious and spiritual dimensions. The reflection component entails the exploration of the ministry experience, the dynamics present, and the theological and spiritual dimensions. This action/reflection process is integral to the participants’ understanding and the formation of their pastoral identity and competence. CPE is “learning theology from the living human document” (Anton Boisen).

The goal of the programme is that the participant will be acknowledged first hand as the bearer of the sacred and the distinctive provider of spiritual and pastoral care.

This unit builds on the foundational CPE unit, DP8273Z Clinical Pastoral Education Level 1. To gain certification as having completed a unit of Clinical Pastoral Education at this Advanced Level the Candidate will be required to meet with a selected panel of professional people including representatives of pastoral, supervisory and theological traditions. The panel's task is to ensure the Candidate for Advanced Level Certification is competent in all four phases of the experiential cycle of learning. The Candidate for CPE Advanced Certification is required to engage in pastoral ministry in ways that demonstrate competence in each phase of the cycle of learning at an Advanced Level. At this meeting the Candidate will be required through prepared documents and personal interview to demonstrate concrete experience, reflective observation, pastoral and theological conceptualisation and active experimentation. At the Advanced Level freedom to depart responsibly from a Level 1 format is important, as is the Candidate's personal security in the absence of well defined roles and boundaries.

This unit will explore the phenomenon of human ageing at personal and societal levels. In light of current person centred approaches in aged care multi-disciplinary understandings of ageing will be explored. This will provide the context for an in-depth study of pastoral care both theoretical and practical. The ways in which human ageing challenges pastoral care will be a particular focus of this study. The context for this study will be the theological, spiritual, ethical and pastoral care tradition of the Catholic church.

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore a range of ethical issues arising from the ageing of the individual person as well as that of an ageing society. Among the issues to be considered will be:

- Transitions: into retirement; downsizing; high care;
- Tensions: between health and lifestyle; living with limits, disability, and dementia; questions of identity, sexuality, and ethnicity;
- Contexts: involving family, relationships and friends; society; church;
- Meanings: experiences of life, death, grief; pain and suffering; choices about care at the end of life

The thinking of Catholic moral theology will be the basis from which an analysis of the issues will proceed.

Introduction to the Principles and Practice of Religious Education (10 points) Geelong

DR8600C(G)

Graduate Certificate in Teaching Religious Education

This unit introduces students to the principles and practice of religious education within the context of the Catholic school in Australia. It highlights religious education as a ministry and pastoral instrument for promoting personal faith development. Participants examine contemporary theological and educational principles underlying religious education, various pedagogical approaches and selected works of educational theorists. Clarification of the faith and spiritual development perspectives of children and adolescents, and the relationship of these for the use of Scripture and liturgy in the classroom is introduced. Current curriculum texts, resources and educational networks are studied. Lesson and unit planning for primary and secondary religious education is developed, implemented and critically evaluated. Strategies and techniques for assessing and evaluating children and adolescents religious education are identified for classroom application.

Semester 2, 2015
Tuesday 10.00am – 1.00pm

Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

Intense interest in meditation is a sign of the times. People of all faiths as well as of no faith engage in meditation. This unit will study meditative techniques, ancient and modern, such as mantras and stillness, music and iconography. In this way students will acquire new levels of spiritual understanding. They will enter into a dialogue with the great teachers of the Christian mystical tradition such as John Cassian and John of the Cross and, by questioning them and hearing what they have to say, gain an overview of the divine trajectory. They will explore in-depth at least one of these great teachers. Students will explore classical forms of meditation as well as contemporary approaches such as Christian Meditation and Centering Prayer. In this way, the students will gain a rich and comprehensive understanding of approaches to prayer, both public liturgy and private prayer.

Human Ageing: Theological and Spiritual Perspectives

DS8632C

*Foundational Unit
crosslisted as DP8632C and DT8632C*

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore the ways human ageing has been understood in the Bible and throughout the history of the Christian church(es). Recent theological explorations of ageing will be an important focus of the course unit. Special emphasis will be given to Catholic theology and the ways it contributes to an understanding of human ageing. Closely related to the theological inquiry will be a consideration of the way both Christian and non-Christian spiritualities have tried to understand and live with the reality of growing old.

This unit explores developments in mystical piety in the Middle Ages. The unit will pay particular attention to the Rhineland Mystics. It will also consider the religious response to urbanization as expressed by the Beguine Movement and the emergence of Mendicant Friars. The development of particularly feminine responses of women to mysticism and relationship of women mystics to the wider church will also be examined. A seminar based unit, it emphasises the reading of texts and the interpretative process involved in a receptive and critical reading of Medieval sources. It also explores some contemporary approaches to the interpretation of Medieval women's spiritual experience in a social and cultural context. Students will be required to read and to analyse primary sources from Medieval writers including: Hildegard of Bingen; Mechthild of Magdeburg; Marguerite de Porette, Gertrude the Great, Meister Eckhardt, Francis and Clare, Bonaventure, Catherine of Siena, Angela of Foligno.

Origins of the Franciscan Evangelical Movement DS9301C

crosslisted as CH9301C

This unit examines the development of the evangelical movement initiated by Francis and Clare of Assisi from 1226 to 1517. While concentrating upon the struggles with the First Order from the death of Francis (1226) through the Bull of Union (1517), and the beginnings of the Capuchin Reform, it will consider the internal developments in the three Franciscan Orders as they attempted to respond to the changing situation of the church and society within this same period.

This unit explores the spiritual life by examining the developmental stages and meditation techniques appropriate for various age groups including children, teenagers and adults. Students explore various approaches including mantra, scripture, symbols, mandala, visualization, body work and spiritual journaling, with an emphasis on Christian meditation. The focus will be on silent meditation, and establishing places of silence in the contemporary technological context including schools, parishes and other settings. The unit will include such topics as spirituality and holiness, discovery of identity and intimacy and signs of spiritual growth. Leadership qualities and ethical considerations required for introducing meditation to groups in a variety of settings will also be discussed. Students will engage in professional experience in leading a meditation group at such locations as schools, hospitals, youth groups, parish groups. The framework and insights of the Enhancing Catholic Schools Identity project will be referred to in the teaching of this unit.

This unit investigates the power of words to both heal and injure in the contexts of body, mind and spirit. Students will examine in particular those forms of meditation which focus on the power of Biblical words to enlighten and transform. It will also show the role of Christian rituals concerned with the healing of soul and body. The unit will examine those meditation techniques which are used to enhance wellbeing and healing, including the healing of memory and physical and psychological illnesses, for such persons as the frail, the house-bound, those in need of palliative care, etc. It will analyse methods of approaching guilt and loss. This study places Christian meditation in the wider context of other meditative traditions illustrated by way of a field work exercise.

This unit will explore the phenomenon of human ageing at personal and societal levels. In light of current person centred approaches in aged care multi-disciplinary understandings of ageing will be explored. This will provide the context for an in-depth study of pastoral care both theoretical and practical. The ways in which human ageing challenges pastoral care will be a particular focus of this study. The context for this study will be the theological, spiritual, ethical and pastoral care tradition of the Catholic church.

Australians are living longer and our society is an ageing society. This unit will explore a range of ethical issues arising from the ageing of the individual person as well as that of an ageing society. Among the issues to be considered will be:

- Transitions: into retirement; downsizing; high care;
- Tensions: between health and lifestyle; living with limits, disability, and dementia; questions of identity, sexuality, and ethnicity;
- Contexts: involving family, relationships and friends; society; church;
- Meanings: experiences of life, death, grief; pain and suffering; choices about care at the end of life

The thinking of Catholic moral theology will be the basis from which an analysis of the issues will proceed.

A 14 day tour with two centres Dublin and London as pivotal points. Students will be introduced to several major authors (such as John Henry Newman), artists (such as monastics producing medieval manuscripts), architects (of cathedrals medieval and modern) and composers (such as Byrd) who have helped shape the cultural ethos of modern Catholicism. Attention will be given to the historical context, the place and time of each; much of this in the appropriate liturgical and pastoral context. The student will thus be introduced to various historical factors which have shaped modern Catholicism.

Master's Capstone Unit: Supervised Placement/Practicum/Project

XP9900C

This capstone unit provides a range of options for students to integrate their knowledge and skills gained in the studies of the award through practical application in a supervised placement, practicum or project (projects may include a field based study tour, in-service presentation for work colleagues, community or parish project etc.). The student will set specific learning outcomes for their supervised placement, practicum or project in consultation with their supervisor. The supervision will focus on identifying how the student's theological studies give insights into their practical experience, and how their praxis affects their theological reflection.

Prerequisites: approved foundational units and
at least fifty percent of the electives for the award.

Requirements: supervised placement/practicum/personal supervision sessions

Assessment: one 3000-word report 50% one 15-minute oral presentation to a cross field/discipline panel, followed by not more than 45 minutes of questions and discussion 50%

Semesters 1 & 2, 2015
days and times to be negotiated

Semester 1 Census Date: Tuesday 17 March
Semester 2 Census Date: Tuesday 18 August

This seminar-based capstone unit provides an opportunity for students to integrate their knowledge and skills gained in the studies of the award. Students will produce one major essay demonstrating the achievement of their own specific learning outcomes designed in conjunction with the learning outcomes set for this unit. Regular seminars will focus on theological reflection and integration of knowledge and skills. Students will present their progress in these seminars and critically reflect on the process. The topic, issue or text will be decided in collaboration with the supervisor. In elaborating this research the student will include reference to as many fields in their study as are relevant.

Prerequisites: approved foundational units and
at least fifty percent of the electives for the award

Requirements: regular seminars across the semester students are to meet regularly with their supervisor to discuss the progress of their research

Master's Capstone Unit: Theological and Ministry Seminar (15 points)

XS9901C

This seminar-based capstone unit provides an opportunity for students to integrate the knowledge and skills gained in the course of their theological studies. Regular seminars will focus on central themes of Catholic thought, in which theological, scriptural and pastoral perspectives will be drawn together. In keeping with the vision of the Second Vatican Council, the method will be Christ-centred, grounded in the faith and practice of the Church, and attentive to the historical contexts of the tradition. Students will actively contribute to these seminars, demonstrating creativity and initiative in integrating knowledge and skills in the various disciplines of theology, and recognising the implications for their ministry.

Masters Capstone Unit: Theological Synthesis (45 points)

XT9900C

General Theological Examination for Final Year Candidates for Ordination

The aim of this capstone unit is to assist students to demonstrate a sensitivity for and a familiarity with the overall structure of Catholic teaching, by producing a written synthesis of Catholic theology. In undertaking this task, students will draw on prior learning about theological topics such as Revelation, Ecclesiology, Theology of God, Christology, Trinity, Grace and Original Sin, Eucharist and the other Sacraments, Eschatology, Mariology and Christian Moral Response, to construct an integrated and mission-oriented account of the Church's faith. This includes designing a thematic structure within which the various topics relate to each other, and indicating points within that structure for dialogue with the wider world, both in terms of the insights and challenges offered by secular learning, and in terms of the Gospel's relevance to "the joys and the hopes, the sorrows and the anguish" of today's world.

Prerequisites: must be undertaken in the final two semesters of the Masters degree

12,000-Word Research Essay

2015: Semesters 1 or 2 Rev. Dr Kevin Lenehan (coordinator)

This unit introduces students to contemporary approaches to qualitative and quantitative research methodologies, with a particular focus on those that are most often used in research in areas of theology and ministry. It provides students with tools to select and apply those methodologies in the formulation of a research proposal. The unit outlines the methodological challenges, hermeneutical questions, and new directions for recent theological research, and the responses across various disciplines to those new developments. Students will be introduced to the skills, competencies and technical methods that are needed to conduct and present high quality research, including identifying a research topic, citation and bibliographical protocols, and obtaining ethics clearances.

12,000-word Research Essay (30 points)

Completion of a 12,000-word Research Essay at Distinction level provides access for students to undertake Research Awards. It may be used in coursework Master's degrees in lieu of the Capstone requirement. On occasions students may wish to test their skill in a longer research essay but may not achieve the Distinction level required to proceed to research.

Students may apply to enrol in a 12,000-word research essay, either as a single unit, or as part of a Bachelor of Theology (Honours) degree, or as part of a postgraduate coursework program.

Students may elect to take the 12,000-word research essay in a single semester or across two consecutive semesters.

A 12,000-word research essay may be undertaken in any of the following disciplines:

- Philosophy
- Biblical Studies (Old or New Testament)
- Systematic Theology
- Church History
- Liturgical Studies
- Moral Theology
- Pastoral Studies
- Religious Education
- Christian Spirituality

Students who have already defined the discipline of their 12,000-word research essay and have at least a draft topic approved by their supervisor may enrol at the commencement of the semester (for more information, please see the guidelines available via: www.ctc.edu.au/Postgraduate-Studies/Coursework-Units/Research-Units/12-000-Word-Research-Essay.aspx).

Students who need assistance in defining their topic for their 12,000-word research essay need to contact the Academic Dean/ Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) in the semester prior to their enrolment.

Higher Degrees by Research

Typical Research Study Paths

* if a 12,000-word research essay or honours thesis of distinction standard has been completed

Higher Degrees by Research (HDR)

Research may be defined as creative work that is undertaken on a systematic basis in order to increase our theoretical and/or practical knowledge and to apply knowledge in new ways.

Four Higher Degrees by Research (HDR) are available to suitably qualified candidates at CTC. Research degrees are undertaken under supervision of one or more members of the CTC academic staff or other accredited academics.

- The Master of Philosophy is open to graduates of a Bachelor degree with Honours (High Distinction or Distinction), or equivalent academic attainment, in theology or and associated discipline. It includes a major (40,000 words) or minor (25,000 words) thesis.
- The Master of Theology is open to theology graduates whose studies include a 12,000 word essay of distinction standard. It includes a major (40,000 words) or minor (25,000 words) thesis.
- The Doctor of Philosophy is open to graduates of a Bachelor degree with Honours (High Distinction or Distinction), or equivalent academic attainment, in theology or and associated discipline. Candidates present their research in a thesis of not more than 100,000 words.
- The Doctor of Theology is open to graduates of a Bachelor degree with Honours (High Distinction or Distinction), or equivalent academic attainment, in theology. Candidates present their research in a thesis of not more than 100,000 words.

Each doctoral candidate is first admitted to probationary candidature, and must have their project assessed by a Confirmation Panel no later than 12 months into candidature. Every candidate must also complete a postgraduate unit in Research Methodologies, see page 369.

Research students have full borrowing rights at all the libraries of UDiv, and are supported by a regular program of postgraduate seminars, where they have the opportunity to meet with other research students, and to discuss the progress of their own work.

2015 Fees

Masters Research	$ 14,364 (minor thesis plus two 15-point postgraduate units)
(total course cost)	$ 14,364 (major thesis)

Doctoral Research	$ 14,332 per annum (full-time)
	$ 7,166 per annum (part-time)
	A limited number of Research Training Scheme (RTS) places are available for eligible domestic candidates.

Office of Research – University of Divinity

UDiv has a long tradition of research excellence, and produces world-class research in all theological disciplines. The University actively fosters a vibrant research culture through publications, conferences, seminars, visiting scholars, four higher degrees by research (HDR), and a compulsory research methodology unit for all HDR students.

The Office of Research, led by the Director of Research, oversees all aspects of the admission, progress and completion of HDR awards. The Office and Director of Research work closely with the University's Research Committee, and the CTC Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research).

International Students

Commonwealth law requires that each overseas student on a student visa must have a valid visa, must study full time, and must have adequate health cover and English language skills. Prospective research students should consult the International Student page of the UDiv website (www.divinity.edu.au) for current information about costs, visa requirements and admission dates. UDiv requires all overseas research students whose first degree was not studied using English as the language of instruction to have achieved an IELTS Overall Band Score of 7.0, with no sub-test score less than 6.5, within the first six months of arriving in Australia.

Admission Requirements

Prospective research students can make contact with the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research) at any time to discuss their proposed research area, possible supervisors, resources required for the research, and application procedures. Students complete the Domestic or International HDR student application in conjunction with the supervisor and Associate Dean. The application is lodged with the Director of Research by the appropriate admission date, and considered by the Admissions Working Group.

Criteria for entry to each Higher Degree by Research are set out in the Regulations for each degree (see www.divinity.edu.au) and can be found on pages 379 to 382.

Approval/Confirmation Panels

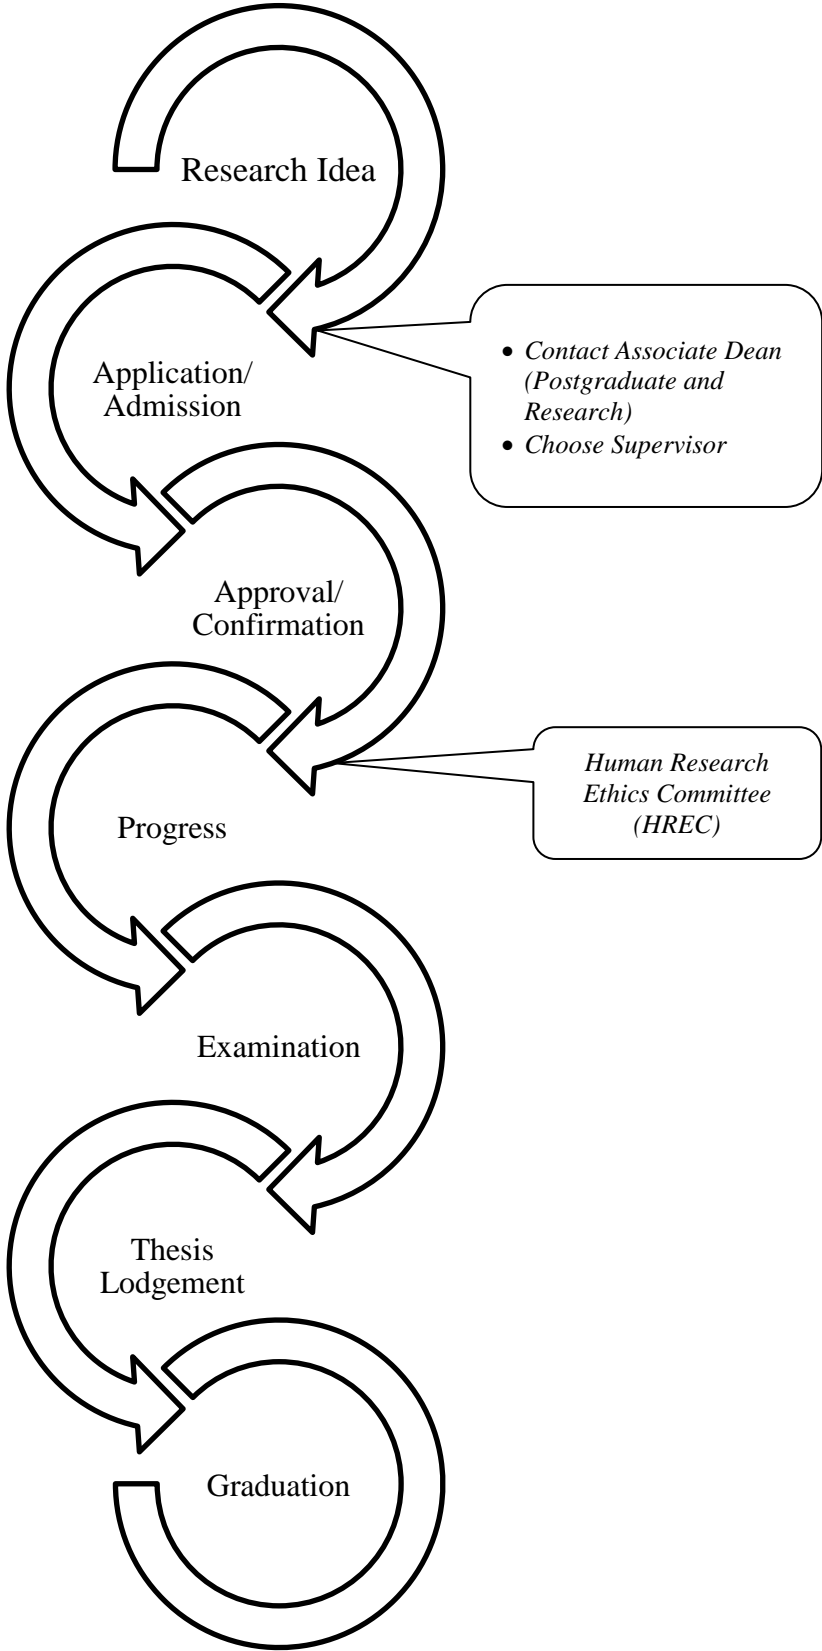

All HDR candidates are admitted first to probationary candidature, and are required to present and defend their project before a panel of disciplinary experts, before being admitted to full candidature. Candidates for the MPhil and MTheol attend an Approval Panel no more than 3 months (full-time) or 6 months (part-time) into their program. Candidates for the PhD and DTheol attend a Confirmation Panel no more than 12 months (full-time) or 24 months (part-time) into their program.

Once candidature has been confirmed the candidate must apply to the University's Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC) for ethical clearance of the approved research proposal. No research involving human subjects, or using records not in the public domain, may commence or proceed without written ethical clearance from HREC. Even if the research does not involve human subjects or non-public documents, the candidate is required to apply to the University HREC for exemption (www.divinity.edu.au).

Annual Report of Progress

As a condition of candidature, each HDR candidate must submit an Annual Report Form, which is completed jointly with the Supervisor and endorsed by the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research). The Report is to be submitted to the Office of Research by 15 November 2015. HDR Master Degree candidates must submit a Mid-Year Report by 26 June 2015.

Research Flowchart

Research Process

Application and Admission

- Contact Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research)
- Discuss topic and nominate supervisor(s)
- Submit application form* with appropriate documentation (see www.divinity.edu.au for more information)
- Application considered by UDiv Admissions Committee (RTS Approval)
- Credits/Advanced Standing processed by UDiv (if required)
- UDiv sends student Letter of Offer/Enrolment Summary (if approved)

Approval/Confirmation

- Preparation of Request for Approval/Confirmation* and accompanying text (including 5,000 word thesis proposal)
- UDiv Panel meets with student and supervisor(s): Thesis approval/Confirmation of Candidature/ Upgrade of Candidature
- Submission of Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC) application*

Progress

- Data gathering and thesis writing
- Submit Annual Report Form by 15 November each year*
- Submit Changes to Research Project Form* (if required)
- Submit Leave of Absence/Extension of candidature forms* (if required)
- Annual HREC Progress report or HREC final report* (if required)
- One presentation at a UDiv Research Seminar

Examination

- Three months prior to thesis submission, submit:
 - Notification of intention to submit*
 - Nomination of Examiners* (from Supervisor)
 - 80 word Abstract
- Submit Thesis with the following documentation:
 - Certification of Thesis* (from Supervisor)
 - Thesis Submission form* (including Statement of Originality)
 - soft-bound copies of thesis (Masters: 2 copies; Doctorates: 3 copies)
 - electronic submission through Turnitin (see page 55)
- UDiv Research Committee appoints examiners
- Examination period
 - Thesis sent to examiners
 - Candidate responds to examiners' requests (if required)
- Final certification of examination result by UDiv Research Committee

Thesis Lodgement

- Candidate provides the following:
 - 3 hardbound copies and 1 electronic copy (pdf)
 - 50 word abstract for conferral ceremony and 150 word abstract for repository
 - Maximum of one dozen keywords
 - Confidentiality of Thesis form*

Conferral of Degree

- UDiv sends student Application to Graduate form
- For more information regarding graduation please see page 51

* All forms available at www.divinity.edu.au.

All forms must be submitted via the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research)

Enrolment/Application Procedures

- Prospective students apply directly to the College for admission. Every applicant is considered on an individual basis.
- Contact the Academic Records Office either by phone (03) 9412 3333 or by email ctc@ctc.edu.au to arrange an appointment with the Associate Dean (Postgraduate and Research)

Enrolment Schedule

Students on a visa other than a student visa enrol on the same schedule as a domestic student.

	2015		2016
	Semester One	Semester Two	Semester One	Semester Two
Domestic Students:	28 Nov 2014	15 Nov 2014	15 Nov 2015	To Be Advised

Research Scholarships and Grants

Research Training Scheme (RTS)

The Research Training Scheme is funded by the Commonwealth Government to meet the costs of all tuition fees for a maximum of 4 years full-time for domestic students and permanent humanitarian visa holders. UDiv is able to offer a limited number of RTS places, allocated on a competitive basis each year. All eligible doctoral applicants will be considered for an RTS place on admission. Candidates who are not allocated an RTS place meet tuition costs by upfront payment or FEE-HELP; they may reapply for consideration in the following year's allocation by the date indicated in the Research Calendar on page 6.

Australian Postgraduate Award (APA)

Australian Postgraduate Awards are Commonwealth Government scholarships open to Australian or New Zealand citizens or Australian permanent residents who are successfully admitted to HDR programs of UDiv. The scholarship is competitively allocated and provides a living allowance of approximately $24,653 per annum (as determined each year by the Commonwealth). An application form can be found on the University website, and should be submitted by the date indicated in the Research Calendar on page 6.

International Postgraduate Research Scholarship (IPRS)

These Commonwealth scholarships are open to overseas students who are admitted to HDR programs of UDiv. An IPRS covers all tuition fees and the health insurance for the candidate and any dependants as required by the Department of Immigration and Border Protection. Guidelines and application form are available on the University website.

Conference Travel Grants

HDR candidates may apply for funding to attend conferences at which they will be presenting a paper, or to undertake field work (such as archival research or interviews). There are three rounds of funding allocated during the year. An application form can be found on the University website, and should be submitted by one of the due dates indicated in the Research Calendar on page 6.

Further Information can be found on the UDiv website, at www.divinity.edu.au and follow the link to Research.

Resources

Doctoral Students Lunches

Doctoral students and their supervisors are invited four times a year to a luncheon provided by CTC. Round-table discussions over lunch include updates of progress, raising of issues, and sharing of experiences and challenges. This is a valuable collegial event. See Research Calendar on page 5.

EndNote

EndNote is a program for recording and managing quotations and references used in essays and research. It produces footnotes and bibliographies in a wide range of styles, including the 'Chicago style' required by CTC. Licences for EndNote have been purchased for all UDiv staff and postgraduate students. An installation CD is available from the Mannix Library loans desk.

Seminars

Staff/Postgraduate

All postgraduate students are invited to attend CTC staff/postgraduate seminars. For dates please see the research calendar on page 5.

Philosophy (Field A)

All staff and postgraduate students are invited to attend UDiv seminars that concentrate on philosophy and scholarship in the history of ideas. Staff and Postgraduate students will be informed by email of forthcoming topics and presenters. For dates please see the research calendar on page 6.

University of Divinity Postgraduate Research Seminars

Both masters and doctoral candidates are encouraged to take an active role in UDiv Postgraduate Seminars, and are expected to present their research at least once in this forum. For more information see the UDiv website: www.divinity.edu.au.

Study Carrels

A number of lockable study carrels are available in the Mannix Library for use by research students. Allocations are made at the beginning of each year. Applications should be made to the Deputy Master by the end of November.

Master of Philosophy – MPhil

Cricos Code: 077752A

The Master of Philosophy is open to graduates of theology or an associated discipline whose studies include a 12,000-word research essay of distinction standard demonstrating research competence in a theological discipline.

Entry Requirements
